

Vogt Recommends Jail for Drug Addicts

Editor's Note: In the concluding part of this series, District Attorney Francis J. Vogt discusses some solutions, as he sees it, to Ulster County's narcotics problem.

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON
"No one forced the addict to put that first needle in his arm. No one forced him to burglarize that house, stick up that storekeeper or mug that old lady."
"Drug addiction is a terrible thing," according to District Attorney Francis J. Vogt but, he said, it is the result of voluntary acts on the part of the addict and he always has the option of seeking treatment and there are many places where treatment can be obtained.

Deeply concerned with the epidemic of burglaries and robberies, most of which are being staged by drug addicts, Vogt has been suggesting that a new treatment be instituted in which drug addicts be punished in the same manner as non-addicts.

Citing a recent article in Time magazine (June 19) in which it was stated that 10 years ago a heroin epidemic threatened

Japan, Vogt said that today "heroin addiction has become a subject without a living example for students there."

Japanese medical students finished their entire education without seeing an addict. "Heroin use in Japan was virtually eliminated by strict enforcement of a 1963 law which provided for harsh handling of both pushers and addicts. A life sentence was meted out for selling heroin and mere possession could mean several years in jail."

Vogt explained that to cut off the demand the Japanese government required that every user caught be confined for at least 30 days treatment. The measures employed by the Japanese, in fighting this problem are much harsher than I would advocate," he said, adding that he mentions Japan's methods of handling addicts only to show that "a harsh approach can be successful."

The district attorney believes that perhaps legislation fixing a mandatory minimum sentence of three years for any and all persons convicted of sale of a hard drug would accomplish more on an overall basis from a law enforcement point of view.

"I like to think of the community at large," Vogt said. "These addicts do infect others. If this legislation were to pass, I would also like to see some special facility for these people — a facility where they are not exposed to the ordinary-type criminal — a facility that would possibly help the addict toward rehabilitation. But, the convicted addict should be taken off the street and confined."

Alluding to the present system of handling addicts who have committed felonies, the district attorney explained that often sentences are based largely on the recommendations of the probation departments throughout the state. And, in almost all instances a probation department, in its pre-sentence report, recommends probation for the defendant if it is his first offense.

Most narcotic violators coming before the court for the first time have had no prior brushes with the law and this, of course, evokes the sympathy of judges and probation departments.

Today's criminal calendar reveals that more than 50 per cent of the cases is related to drugs. Either the defendant is under indictment for felonious sale or for robbery or burglary, committed in most instances in order to finance a drug habit.

"Very seldom do we get an 'honest' burglar anymore," Vogt said.

Pointing out that addict-defendants remain in rehabilitation centers three to four months at the most, he feels that giving non-addicts sentences of two and one-half to five years for similar crimes is unfair. Addicts should be punished the same as non-addicts, he maintains. To do otherwise is to penalize the non-addict and reward the addict.

"I wish to make it very clear that I am not criticizing anyone," Vogt concluded.

"I simply feel that by treating the addicted criminal as a person more to be pitied than censured, we have failed in our primary objective which is to curb drug abuse.

"I think we must now resort to much sterner measures."

Volunteers Only to Viet, Nixon Says

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon announced today an additional 10,000 GIs would be pulled out of Vietnam over the next two months, reducing the troop level to 39,000 by Sept. 1.

At the same time, Nixon announced effective immediately that draftees would no longer be assigned involuntarily in Vietnam.

Ronald L. Ziegler, presidential press secretary, said Nixon would have another announcement on the subject of troop levels before Sept. 1.

Ziegler said that the President's previous announcement that there would be a force level of 49,000 in Vietnam by this Saturday would be met.

He said the additional withdrawals after consultation with the government of South Vietnam and "a thorough review of the situation" on the battlefield.

Ziegler said that when the level of 39,000 was reached Sept. 1, Nixon would have withdrawn more than 510,500 troops since he began the program in July, 1969.

Ziegler said the President based his decision on his assessment that the Vietnamization program would not be affected nor would the safety of remaining American forces be jeopardized by the additional withdrawals.

Previous to today's announcement, Nixon had been withdrawing troops at the rate of 10,000 a month the past two months and about 20,000 a month before that.

Ziegler said the figure to be achieved by Sept. 1 represented a 93 per cent reduction of the authorized force since Nixon took office.

On the war front, South Vietnamese troops launched a huge offensive on the heels of record U.S. air and naval bombardments in Communist-held Quang Tri Province today, military spokesmen said.

President Thieu given unlimited powers for the next six months. Story on Page 40.

The spokesmen said the new push drove north from the My Chanh River defense line, 20 miles north of Hue. Its object, the spokesmen said, was to recapture Quang Tri City, 12 miles above the defense line, and all of the northernmost province that was overrun by the North Vietnamese May 1.

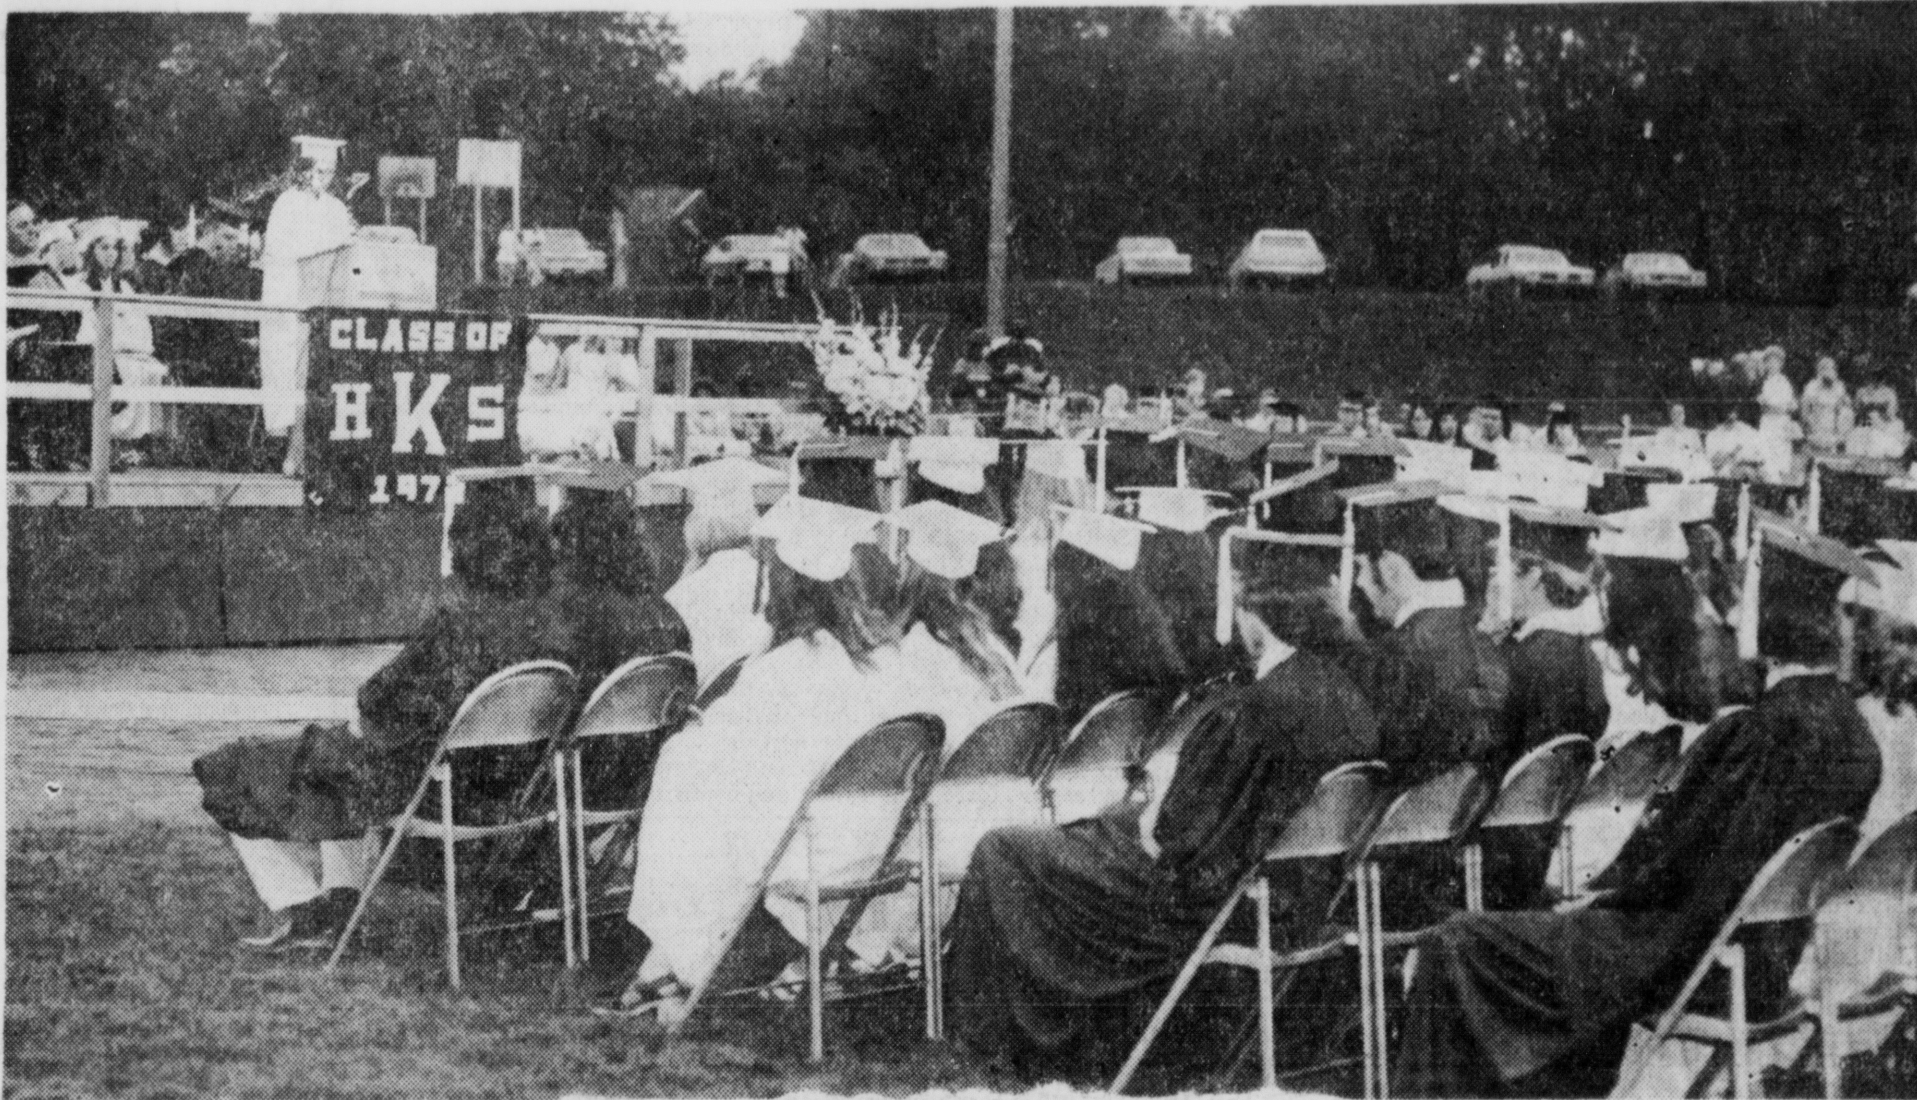

The drive was preceded by a fifth consecutive day of heavy raids in Quang Tri and Thua Thien Provinces by a record 34 waves of U.S. B52 bombers, 152 strikes by jet fighter-bombers and heavy bombardment by 17 U.S. Navy cruisers and destroyers lying off Quang Tri in the Gulf of Tonkin.

In the air war over North Vietnam, U.S. warplanes flew through heavily overcast skies Tuesday to bomb the country's major airport and truck repair yard two miles from the center of Hanoi for the second consecutive day, the U.S. command said today.

The command said one U.S. Air Force F4 Phantom jet fighter bomber was shot down over Hanoi by a surface-to-air missile (SAM) during Tuesday's raids. Both crewmen were reported "missing," spokesmen said.

A broadcast by Radio Hanoi claimed 12 U.S. planes were downed over the capital Monday and Tuesday. It said one pilot, identified only as Air Force Capt. Richard Lagen Francis, 29, was captured.

A communique said the destruction of a single hangar at Bach Mai airbase was the only confirmed damage in the area.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—For more than 29 years five young World War II Marines lay in shallow unmarked graves near the northern coast of Guadalcanal.

They gave their lives in the dank and malarious jungle to help turn the tide of battle in the Pacific.

Today they came home. Home to Arlington National Cemetery and burial with full military honors. Home to lie among other Leathernecks who fell in that war—and in Korea, and in Vietnam.

After so many years, nothing remained of the five men but skeletons. These were placed in two caskets for burial in a common grave at Arlington.

The Marine band was called out for the funeral. Rifles cracked in a 21-gun salute, and the mournful notes of Taps echoed over the northern Virginia hills as the caskets were lowered into the ground.

A folded U.S. flag was presented to the relatives of each man.

Marine officials said they could not recall another funeral held under similar circumstances. It might never have been held at all except for the efforts of a forester's wife in the Solomon Islands and researchers at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington.

Records of the 1st Marine Division, to which all five men belonged, show that Pvt. Paul E. Gagnon, 21, of Augusta, Maine; Pfc. Godfrey E. Hunter, 20, of Winston Salem, N.C.; Pfc. David W. Johns, 19, of Johnstown, Pa.; Pfc. Eugene Johnston, 18, of Littleton, N.C., and Cpl. John F. Suggs, 24, of Richmond, N.C., all died Oct. 9, 1942.

The bodies of four other men who were killed with them near the Matanikau River, on the northern coast of Guadalcanal, were found later. The search did not turn up anyone else in that area.

In 1949 a special military review board ruled the five buried today were unrecoverable because no trace of them had been found in the dense, war-torn jungle. The case remained closed for the next 21 years.

It was reopened in 1970 after retired Marine Capt. E. C. Clarke, executive secretary of the 1st Marine Division Association, received a letter from the wife of a forestry official in the Solomon Islands.

Mrs. Y. Timothy Kwaimani wrote to say that a skeleton with Marine dog tags around its neck had been found on Guadalcanal. The name on the metal tags was G. E. Hunter. "That started a chain of events which led to the Australian government and Solomon Islands officials conducting a new search for grave sites on Guadalcanal," a Marine official said. "Four more skeletons were found in late 1971."

The remains were sent to Washington, where Smithsonian Institution officials worked nearly five months to establish positive identification through dental search and other records, officials said.

County Dairy Queen Crowned

Falls, and Nancy Warren, 18 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Warren of High Falls. Ulster County's Dairy Princess and Miss Davis will make their first appearance in the July 4 Parade in Saugerties. On July 5 and 6 they will attend an orientation seminar in Syracuse for all Dairy Princesses and will be accompanied by Mrs. Juanita Mann, chairman of the local Pageant. A new state princess will be selected in August at the state fair. Detailed story on the pageant will appear in Sunday's Women's Section. (Freeman photo by Haines)

Bowling Green Provost Named Paltz President

NEW PALTZ of Ohio Medical Center; Stan-ley III, 21, is married and a student at Bowling Green University in Ohio has been named to be the next president of the State University College at New Paltz.

"I am pleased to have been invited by the college to become its president," Dr. Coffman said following the announcement. "The students and faculty I met expressed enthusiasm for the school's potential that would in itself be adequate reason for my interest in becoming associated with it."

Coffman will assume the presidency at New Paltz on September 1. He succeeds Dr. John J. Neumaier, who in announcing his resignation last November, expressed his desire that the college would have sufficient time to find a qualified successor.

Coffman, 55, has been a member of the faculty at Bowling Green since 1962, serving successively as professor and chairman of the Department of English, graduate dean, vice president of Academic Affairs, and as dean of faculties.

A member of Phi Beta Kappa, he earned his bachelor of arts degree in Haverford College and his master's and doctor's degrees at Ohio State University. His publications include a book of modern poetry entitled "Imagism," published by Octagon Press.

Coffman and his wife, the former Ann Wrenthmore, have been married for 30 years. They have three children. Ann, 24, is a nurse at the University campus that broke out in May, 1970. He was also subjected to strong criticism by local residents for his handling of the school.

He was also criticized in a joint statement issued by Assemblyman H. Clark Bell of Woodstock, State Senator Jay P. Rolison Jr. of Poughkeepsie, and County Legislature Chairman Peter J. Savago, who expressed their "indignation and frustration" over the disorders on the campus.

Neumaier has not announced his plans for the future. He is a former president of Moorhead State College in Minnesota.

Dr. Coffman said he is looking forward to his new assignment. "The four-year college certainly remains the key to answering questions raised internally about higher education, and I am confident we can formulate some of the answers at New Paltz," he said.

Tuition Hike at UCCC

STONE RIDGE earlier this year authorized a tuition hike of $25 a year tuition increases at 32 state-operated campuses including the Ulster New Paltz State University Community College College.

The increase raises tuition for two semesters from $550 to $575. Tuition for part time students also was increased by $2.50, from 18.50 to 21 per credit hour per semester.

The trustees also voted to increase the full time tuition for non-New York State residents by $50, from $1,100 to $1,150 per year (two semesters). Part time tuition for out-of-state residents was raised by $5, from $37 to $42 per credit hour.

The increases are subject to approval by the State University Board of Trustees which

The UCCC trustees reported they were raising the tuition because the cost of operating the college has increased as a result of campus expansion, the need to purchase all equipment from the operating budget and "the continuing inflationary spiral."

Dr. George B. Erbstein, college president, said that with the tuition being increased the college will make every effort to advise students of financial assistance that might be available to them.

Tuition at UCCC was increased about a year ago by $75 a year for full time students. The current increase will become effective Sept. 1 of this year.

Will Pick One to Challenge Kapreilian

Dems List Four Possible Candidates

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON — Four names have been advanced as possible Democratic candidates to oppose the recently appointed GOP County Legislator Harry C. Kapreilian in the Nov. 7 election. They are: former legislators William C. Davis and Orrie R. Riehl. Also, former Mayor Edwin Radel and Elmore Yallum.

Democratic County Chairman James T. McCordle said Monday that he will meet this week with City Democratic Chairman Lawrence Woerner in an attempt to arrive at a mutually satisfactory candidate. Kapreilian, president of the Charles Ramsey Corp., was appointed to the County Legislature Friday by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to fill a vacancy created by the recent death of William Edelmuth (D-City). The appointment is for a term which expires Dec. 31 of this year. Kapreilian, if he wishes to continue in the post will therefore have to seek election Nov. 7.

The Democrats, eager to see the post returned to their party, are acting immediately to choose a candidate.

Davis, owner of Mother's Laundry, served as a county legislator, representing the City of Kingston for a two-year term during 1970-71. He was defeated in his bid for reelection last November.

He served on the conference for eight years and was elected mayor in November 1957 and reelected in 1959. He was named "Man of the Year" in 1960 by the Kingston Jaycees who cited him for his reorganization of the Police Department and for his efforts in behalf of the Kingston Urban Renewal project.

Riehl served the board for four years from 1968 through 1971. Now treasurer of the City of Kingston, he was a member of the audit and insurance committee, county treasurer, finance, legislative and rules, social services and tax base study committee.

Former Mayor Radel was alderman of the old Third Ward for eight years and was elected mayor in November 1957 and reelected in 1959. He was named "Man of the Year" in 1960 by the Kingston Jaycees who cited him for his reorganization of the Police Department and for his efforts in behalf of the Kingston Urban Renewal project.

Yallum, secretary of M. Yallum and Sons Inc., Wall Street, Kingston, is chairman of the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency. He was appointed to the post in 1967 by former Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan. Active in civic affairs for many years he is past chairman of the city planning board and has worked on several Community Chest campaign drives. His term with the Urban Renewal Agency is due to expire at the end of this month.

In last fall's election of legislators, results were uncertain in the city for about a week, with both Kapreilian and Davis declared winners at first. A later recount knocked them both off the board.

Report Damage From Storm Agnes May Be Light in Ulster County

KINGSTON — An interim report recently filed by Charles L. Arnold, director of Ulster County Office of Civil Defense and Natural Disaster indicates that damage from Tropical Storm Agnes may be light.

Arnold's report notes that high water levels throughout the county are receding.

He said he had made telephone surveys and personal visits to some sections last Saturday and Sunday, and all town supervisors and Kingston Mayor Francis R. Koenig were sent report applications to complete on which they could note the extent of damage if any and also an estimate of the cost of repairs as a determination if federal aid could be allocated.

His report noted that there was some flooding but no residents had to be evacuated. Some campers, however, were asked to move to higher ground in the Town of Shandaken. Five people were put up for the night at Shandaken Town Hall and 15 others were advised to leave their campsite. They were put up in the Boiceville School. The water did not reach either of these campsites and the campers returned the next day, Arnold said.

On Thursday, June 22, the Red Cross director called Arnold and requested that he arrange for the opening of the State Armory in Kingston as a precautionary measure, in the event that the arrival of Tropical Storm Agnes resulted in heavy rains and flooding conditions.

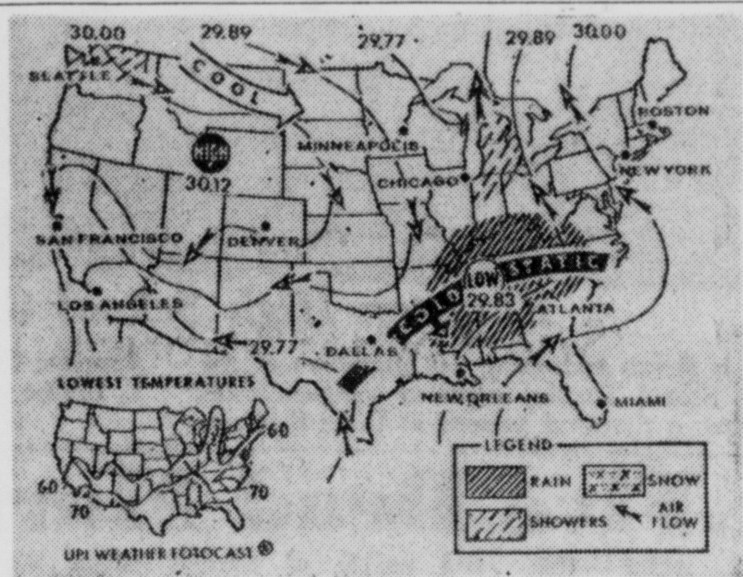

During late afternoon and early evening reports indicated the storm was moving due north and up the Hudson River. Forecasts were for torrential rains and damaging winds between 6 and 10 p.m.

The State Civil Defense and Natural Disaster Office broadcast a warning statewide for all people living in low-lying areas to be prepared to evacuate their homes. Heavy rains and high winds did materialize but not in the strength expected.

Later that night, Arnold said, it was reported that the storm had shifted to the west at Newburgh and thus spared Ulster County.

It had been reported that water at the Ashokan spillway had reached a level of two feet. This was later officially announced at 1.6 feet. The full extent of the damage in Ulster County will not be known for weeks as reports from the various supervisors are filed. There had been some reports of highway washouts and bridges washed away. However none of these have been confirmed to date, Arnold said.

For Period Ending 7 a. m. EST Thursday

Tonight rain and showers will be found from the Gulf coastal area into the Ohio-Tennessee valleys as well as in parts of the Lakes region. Otherwise, except for a few scattered showers in the Pacific Northwest, mostly fair weather should rule elsewhere. Minimum temperatures include: (approximate maximum temperatures in parentheses) Atlanta 69 (88), Boston 62 (77), Chicago 57 (78), Dallas 76 (98), Denver 53 (90), Duluth 55 (81), Jacksonville 74 (96), Kansas City 61 (83), Los Angeles 61 (75), Miami 74 (91), Minneapolis 59 (81), New Orleans 77 (93), New York 64 (80), Phoenix 72 (112), San Francisco 53 (75), Seattle 54 (77), St. Louis 64 (84), Washington 65 (82) degrees.

City Burglaries ... Three Arrests

By WALTER S. CLARK

KINGSTON — Three more arrests in connection with the Kingston police department investigation into a rash of burglaries in the city today were reported by authorities, who said additional arrests will be made as the probe continues.

The arrests in the last few days on burglary counts totals six, according to Police Chief Julius Glassman.

Arrested late Tuesday afternoon charged with burglary third degree was Charles LaDestro, 19, of 587 Abell Street, who was accused of allegedly breaking into the residence of Aaron Shultis on Chapel Street on Oct. 4, 1971. Taken into custody by detectives earlier in the day and charged with third degree burglary in connection with the same break-in was Gary W. Davis, 23, of 1 Fitch Street, police said.

The two allegedly entered the Shultis home through a side door and reportedly stole an antique gun, a stereo device and some whiskey, authorities noted.

Also taken into custody Tuesday was a 14-year-old Kingston boy whose name is withheld because of his age. He will be petitioned into Children's Court following questioning by officers of the Juvenile Aid Division of the police department.

The boy, according to detectives, allegedly entered Colangelo's Liquor Store at 557 Abell Street late Oct. 18, 1971 or early the following morning and reportedly made off with about $300 in cash.

Chief Glassman said further developments and arrests are expected during the continued investigation of the liquor store entry.

Earlier this week, Douglas Perry, 23, of the Town of Saugerties, and two juvenile boys were taken in custody and charged with third degree burglary. Perry, who is held in $12,500 bail pending re-appearance in City Court Thursday, was booked on 12 counts of burglary third degree. He also was cited on two counts of endangering the welfare of minors involving the two boys.

Meanwhile, the sheriff's office reported a continued investigation of a burglary at the home of the late Wesley O'Brien in Glenford disclosed that in addition to three rifles previously reported taken a large number of antiques also were missing from the house.

Three men who were seen leaving the residence on Monday in a blue sedan are being sought.

First Sergeant Donald Policastro said antiques missing from the house included a lamp, gold pocket watch, assorted jewelry, a glass dome clock, a World War II machete, five ceremonial swords and pottery items. No value has been put on the loot.

Deputies also investigated an alleged burglary at the Anna Devine School in Rifton, which was entered by using a piece of wire to remove a crash bar. Several assorted tools were reported as stolen from a custodian's room.

Cash, Checks, Bonds Seized From Assistant DA's Home

NEW YORK (UPI)—Federal agents acting on search warrants seized nearly $40,000 in cash, checks and bonds Tuesday from the home of an assistant Queens district attorney and safe deposit box belonging to a prominent attorney.

The two men were named in federal warrants filed in Brooklyn Federal Court in connection with accepting alleged bribes "to fix criminal cases."

The agents found $4,730 in cash and a check for $3,123 at the home of Norman D. Archer, chief of Queens District Attorney Thomas Mackell's county grand jury bureau. Another $31,500 in cash and a $5,000 transit authority bond was found in a safe deposit box rented by criminal lawyer Frank Klein.

Affidavits filed with the search warrants accused Klein of accepting a bribe of nearly $15,000 from an undercover agent who had been arrested on a weapons charge.

An affidavit filed by federal agent George Carros quoted Klein as saying he needed the money to "fix a friend in the district attorney's office."

That "friend," according to Carros' affidavit, was Archer.

Carros, working for the U.S. attorney for the Southern District of New York, said he paid Klein $14,500 on May 8.

The next day the agent testified before a grand jury alleged corruption of police, conducted by Archer that he

Attending Summit Peace Talks

SIMLA, India (UPI)—Pakistani President Zulfikar Ali Bhutto arrived today for summit talks with Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi aimed at squelching hostilities between the two nations that have spanned a quarter of a century.

Mrs. Gandhi arrived Tuesday at this Himalayan hilltop station and greeted Bhutto and his 87-member delegation today for the start of talks that will affect the lives of the 700 million people living in India, Pakistan and Bangladesh.

Bhutto in a speech to his nation on the eve of his arrival warned India against imposing a "humiliating peace" on Pakistan following the Indo-Pakistani war last December that spelled Pakistan's defeat and the birth of Bangladesh, Pakistan's former eastern wing.

He also claimed that India has not made "a single constructive gesture to herald a new era" of good relations.

Still, delegates on both sides hoped the summit would lead to some agreement, perhaps a quick restoration of diplomatic relations and future meetings that could pave the way to a lasting peace on the subcontinent.

Difficult problems to be solved at the summit, scheduled for three days but which could last longer, include the readjustment of frontiers, the fate of 93,000 Pakistani prisoners of war held by India and settlement of the dispute over the border state of Kashmir, which both sides have claimed since they gained independence from Britain 25 years ago.

Flood Victims...A Week Later

By DAVID SHAFFER
Associated Press Writer

A week ago, before the floods came, life was fairly normal for the people of southwestern New York.

They lived in real homes. They knew where their friends and relatives were. They could turn on the lights, use the telephone, flush the toilet, drink water flowing from taps in their own homes. They could go to a grocery store, buy food and cook it in their own kitchens.

They had debts, but if they were paying off a mortgage on a house, at least it was only one mortgage for most.

Today, for thousands forced out by the waters, home is the floor of a high school gymnasium, a bunk bed in a college dormitory, the living room rug in the house of a luckier friend.

The tap water is contaminated; they have to drink water brought in street-cleaning trucks from Rochester or New York City. At least 24 of their friends and relatives are known dead; an unknown number more are missing. If they want to talk to someone they know, instead of calling him on the phone they look at a computerized, alphabetized list to find out which refugee center he is staying in.

If they want to eat, even if they are lucky enough to be back in their own homes, there may be no electricity or gas, and the grocery stores may be empty or closed.

They stand in line for canned spaghetti dished out by tired, overworked volunteers in some church basement. Perhaps they get some of the 22,000 pounds of beef that was brought in by train for a washed-out packing plant and distributed by inmates at Elmira's correctional facilities.

They look out at their mud-encrusted streets, at stores and factories and homes wrecked or damaged, and they know that for many of them it will be months before life even begins to return to normal.

As the waters recede and the first wave of relief workers move to the background, federal, state and local officials are moving ahead with plans to clean up the wreckage, repair roads and bridges, restore public services and help families thrown out of their houses and cut off from their jobs.

The Small Business Administration has begun taking preliminary information from families and property owners needing loans to repair their damaged homes and businesses.

The loans are available in amounts up to $50,000 and at interest rates ranging from 5 1/2 per cent downwards, federal officials say.

But a new debt for a house the place where he used to live that was already mortgaged to work will be back in business. The hit when the waters came. A cabinet-level state disaster committee held its first meeting in Albany Tuesday and decided to give local relief committees wide leeway. The federal Office of Emergency Preparedness (OEP) set up headquarters for all federal agencies in Horseheads, a suburb of Elmira. The Red Cross announced it had all the food and other supplies it could store.

Cheerful Note From Credentials Committee

Dems Have Georgia on Mind

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic Credentials Committee has Georgia on its mind today after sounding a cheerful note in George S. McGovern's march to Miami Beach and turning the music sour for a delegate named Daley.

The panel was to take up convention-seating challenges from five states, including Maine, Iowa, Kentucky and Nevada, but Georgia's hearing appeared most rife with controversy.

Seventeen of Georgia's 53 delegates were being contested on grounds the state violated many of the McGovern-promulgated rules. The charges included under-representation of women, youth and blacks, and election irregularities.

Strategists for McGovern, whose forces make up about half the 150-member committee, rate the Georgia case as one of the three most important of about 75 separate challenges still facing the panel.

The other two, says Eli Segal, McGovern's credentials coordinator, are those in Chicago and California, both of them cases which provided major developments Tuesday.

McGovern opponents hope to wrest away 150 of his 271 California delegates with the argument that the state's winner-take-all primary violates the spirit of reforms prohibiting unit rule.

But a committee hearing examiner, Burke Marshall, ruled Tuesday that the reforms had not been transgressed in California, although he left it to the full committee to decide whether the results were nonetheless unfair.

His finding considerably buoyed the McGovern camp which feared their man's first-ballot potential at Miami Beach could evaporate should he lose the California case. The entire committee will rule on the issue Thursday.

Another examiner's report, meanwhile, came as a blow to Mayor Richard J. Daley and 58 other uncommitted delegates from Chicago. Former U.S. Atty. Cecil Poole found that Daley's group had violated several reform guidelines "both in letter and in spirit."

Daley's delegation is challenged by the Rev. Jesse Jackson and several McGovern supporters who contend the mayor failed to include proper representation of women and minorities and engaged in unfair campaign practices.

The Credentials Committee decides the Daley case Friday.

In other action Tuesday, the committee rejected a challenge to Alabama's 37-member delegation on a vote of 69 to 55. A predominantly black faction led by Dr. John L. Cashin Jr. had sought full recognition in place of the Wallace-controlled regulars.

Challenges involving portions of the South Carolina and Florida delegations were also dismissed by the committee. Those contests were based upon an appeal for more women.

SOUTHERN HOSPITALITY—Sen. George McGovern leans back and laughs as he is presented the "Key" to the city by Vice Mayor Maynard Jackson of Atlanta. McGovern took his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination to the South and pledged he would not "write off the South" and that he would push for equal enforcement of the Civil Rights Voting Act. ## Platform Committee Lists Key Planks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are key planks in the Democratic Platform Committee's draft for the 1972 national convention:

VIETNAM—"If the war is not ended before the next Democratic administration takes office, we pledge as the first order of business, an immediate and complete withdrawal of all U.S. forces in Indochina."

BUSING—"Transportation of students is another tool to accomplish desegregation. It must continue to be available, according to Supreme Court decisions, to eliminate legally imposed segregation and improve the quality of education for all children."

TAX REFORM—"We endorse as a minimum step the Mills-Mansfield Tax Policy Review Act of 1972, which would repeal virtually all tax preferences in the existing law over the period 1974-76 as a means of compensating a systematic review of their value to the nation. The most unjustified of the tax loop-holes should, however, be closed immediately."

CEILING—"A first priority must be eliminating the unfair, bureaucratic Nixon wage abroad, we state our firm intention to declare amnesty, on permanent political settlement."

DRAFT—"We urge abolition of the quantity and sophistication she needs to preserve her strength... (and should) seek to bring the parties into direct negotiations toward a permanent political settlement."

AMNESTY—"To those who for reasons of conscience refused to serve in this war and were heretofore prosecuted or sought refuge in direct negotiations toward a permanent political settlement."

CEILING—"A first priority must be eliminating the unfair, bureaucratic Nixon wage abroad, we state our firm intention to declare amnesty, on permanent political settlement."

Repudiation of Party Charter Will Be Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats will be asked today to repudiate a proposed new Democratic party charter drafted for presentation to the party's national convention.

Incensed at what they regard as a downgrading of state city Democrats and members of regular party organizations, public officials in the proposed party structure, a group of congressmen forced a special meeting of the House Democratic Caucus to put it to a vote.

The plan, drawn up by two reform commissions created by the 1968 convention, would establish a national Democratic party with enrolled, dues-paying members. It would greatly expand the Democratic National Committee, giving a majority to the committee to locally elected persons, and authorize a national conference every four years, also controlled by delegates from the grass roots, to set party policy.

The plan aroused heated opposition at the regular monthly caucus last week and petitions were sent around for another meeting this week so it could be voted on. It takes 50 members to get a special meeting and Rep. Frank Annunzio, D-Ill., who circulated the petition, got 70 to sign up.

Annunzio, a member of Chicago Mayor Richard Daley's Democratic organization, said the proposed plan would remove most of the present party leaders from positions of control, replacing them with women, youths and blacks, three categories guaranteed representation in the ruling bodies in proportion to their numbers in the voting-age population. "I don't think that represents the Democratic party," Annunzio said Tuesday. "It's a goddamned quota system, something the Democrats have always been against. And paying dues before you can vote. That's going back to the poll tax."

Annunzio will ask the caucus to vote on a resolution stating that the plan "is not in the best interests of the Democratic party," and calling for further study of the issue.

Annunzio's objections were heightened by changes made in the plan by the convention Rules Committee last week after it had been presented to the House Democratic Caucus.

Led by delegates pledged to Sen. George McGovern, the committee greatly enlarged the representation of grass-roots Democrats on the key committees and further reduced the influence of state party chairmen.

Ten Anti-Demonstration Ordinances Are Proposed

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Ten proposed antidemonstration ordinances aimed at maintaining order during the Democratic National Convention by outlawing acts ranging from cop baiting to rioting go before the Miami Beach City Council today.

The consideration comes one day after a renewed pledge of peace for the convention was offered by members of the Youth International party (Yippies).

Two of the 10 proposals are supported by Police Chief Rocky Pomerance, whose information officer, Lt. Pete Corso, stressed the chief's desire "to start out on a harmonious footing."

Pomerance had been reported as supporting all the proposals, but he later said this was the result of a mixup. He said he sent the measures—culled from those used in Los Angeles and Washington—to city lawyers only for analysis. However, all 10 wound up on the council's agenda.

The chief said he supports proposals giving him power to establish emergency curfews, and allowing police to rope off a trouble spot and permit entry only by the press or other people approved by police.

Pomerance said he did not want ordinances banning the singing of obscene songs; disorderly conduct; derogatory remarks to policemen; public use of obscenities; participation in a "riot, rout or unlawful assembly"; remaining at the scene of a riot; inciting to riot; or malicious provocations.

Yippie leaders Jerry Rubin and Abbie Hoffman said at a news conference Tuesday all activities of the Yippies during the Democratic convention will be peaceful.

All major nondelegate groups have said they would try to keep all the demonstrations peaceful.

Ed Sanders, another Yippie leader, said, however, that special arrangements were being made for Chicago Mayor Richard Daley, whose role as an Illinois delegate is being challenged.

"We're going to bring him his seat at the airport. Then we're going to follow him everywhere he goes," said Sanders. "Just like they did to us in Chicago in 1968."

Other activities planned by Yippies during the July 10-14 conclave are a march, two picnics and a ceremonial "marriage" of the young protesters and Miami Beach senior citizens.

Annunzio, a member of Chicago Mayor Richard Daley's Democratic organization, said the proposed plan would remove most of the present party leaders from positions of control, replacing them with women, youths and blacks, three categories guaranteed representation in the ruling bodies in proportion to their numbers in

Dems Cozy on Phone Bills

WASHINGTON — It looks as if the Democrats are now as cozy with AT&T as the Republicans are with ITT.

Tucked away in the Democratic National Committee's files is evidence of some strange dealings over the telephone service at the upcoming Miami convention. The scenario began last December when AT&T threatened to cut off the phone service at the Democratic convention unless the party paid its back debts to the company.

Seeing an opportunity, an independent phone company affiliated with ITT made a determined bid for the job. The company, General Communications & Electronics of Nashville, Tenn., offered to provide communications for the convention for $1.7 million.

AT&T, meanwhile, moved to repair their relations with the Democrats. The company agreed to provide phone debts, if the Democrats would merely keep their 1972 phone bills paid.

Then, suddenly, AT&T came up with an astonishing offer to furnish the communications at the Democratic convention for about $75,000.

The independent company, which had based its bid on an exhaustive appraisal, protested that $75,000 couldn't possibly cover all the costs.

Heated Exchange

The national committee's files contain a number of sharply worded letters, which were exchanged between the company's lawyers and party officials. The lawyers suggested that AT&T's offer could only be considered an outright gift to the party and, therefore, was forbidden by law.

When we started asking questions, the Democrats insisted it was the independent company, not AT&T, which was out of line. The difference between $1.7 million and $75,000, however, seems too far out of line.

One suggestion was that the two companies were bidding on different jobs. The independent's $1.7 million bid covered the entire convention communications system, including service for the various candidates, news services, television networks and security officials.

AT&T, on the other hand, was quoting a price for only the share of the system that the Democratic National Committee would use.

If this explanation accounts for the vast discrepancy in bids, party officials failed to recognize it during weeks of detailed negotiations. Indeed they professed to us that both companies were bidding on the same specifications.

Were the party officials simply stupid? Or did they deliberately promote the confusion so they could deal with AT&T? Whatever the answers, AT&T will provide the phone service at bargain rates.

Footnote: Convention manager Dick Murphy acknowledged to us that, despite the well-publicized threat by AT&T to cut off phone service, his dealing with Southern Bell in Miami continued as usual. Southern Bell officials, he said, never gave any indication they might not do the job.

Strange Easter Crusade
Some Easter eggheads are trying to get the federal government to ease its ban on dangerously flammable Easter grass.

The ban was ordered by the Food and Drug Administration for the 1973 season, because the green, crinkly cellophane in Easter baskets can catch fire and burn children.

Most of the grassmakers went along with the ban. But Erwin Weder, owner of Highland Manufacturing and Sales, heard about it too late. To his horror, he found he was stuck with a $250,000 inventory, all packaged and ready to sell.

Since the grass is absolutely no use except to cushion Easter eggs, Weder faced a financial crisis. In desperation, he took his problem to Rep. Phil Crane, R-Ill.

The able and articulate Crane, demonstrating a certain callousness for the safety of little children, showed more concern about all those colorful cellophane shreds on Weder's hands.

Crane mobilized a save-the-cellophane lobby which, at one time or another included such congressional stalwarts as dashing Barry Goldwater, Jr., R-Calif.; big, bushy Tip O'Neill, D-Mass.; nativ Ken Gray, D-Ill.; Bob Michel, R-Ill.; and two Oklahoma eggheads, Tom Steed and John Camp.

They trekked down to the FDA for meetings with officials, fired off letters and flooded the FDA switchboard with calls against the Easter grass ban. They even summoned FDA Commissioner Charles Edwards to a private meeting in O'Neill's Majority Whip Office.

The FDA memos began to fly. One urgent internal message tells how Weder turned up with his "supporters" from Capitol Hill to put on the pressure but added bravely: "No delay in enforcement could be anticipated."

Crane even made a House speech quoting Justice Brandeis in support of his crusade to save the flammable Easter grass. But Sen. Joe Montoya, D-N.M., was unimpressed. He wrote FDA Commissioner Edwards a letter, warning that the sale of surplus Easter grass "would place a number of small children in danger."

At this point, Tip O'Neill rallied and decided to put the children ahead of the Easter grass. It now looks, therefore, as if Weder is going to be stuck with a lot of shredded cellophane.

Freeman Editorials

Baseball's Immunity

The Supreme Court's confirmation of previous decisions that baseball alone is immune from anti-trust laws is an invitation to Congress to make the final ruling by legislation. Since two previous decisions, 20 and 40 years apart, also left it to Congress to make the rules, it is doubtful that legislation may come in time to prevent a showdown between players and owners after the 1972 season.

Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, Players' Representative Marvin Miller, and various other officials look to collective bargaining, after the World Series, to correct the inequities in player-management relations. If they reach the negotiating table, not only the reserve clause will be in dispute, but the "basic agreement" itself, expiring December 31 and covering minimum pay, expenses, grievance machinery and working rules and also the pension and insurance agreements which were reached after a two-week strike by the players last spring.

There is proposed legislation in Congress for a Federal Sports Commission that would have jurisdiction over all professional team sports. A Senate committee has begun hearings and a House committee has scheduled hearings starting July 24. It would be a miracle if they can act before the World Series. If they can, it would save a lot of trouble for all sports.

Humphrey Predicts

As voters went to the polls in the nation's last primary election, in New York, Senator Hubert H. Humphrey, with no delegate slate to risk, predicted disaster for the Democratic Party in the election this fall because the views of Senator George McGovern, the leader, are not in tune with the nation's.

McGovern, flushed with success in 10 successive primaries, including New York's, said you don't make that kind of a massive sweep "on a platform the people are opposed to." He rejected advice from "the old guard" to win primaries and he doesn't expect to begin to take their advice now.

Humphrey's warning was based on the latest reports of delegate loyalties. They showed McGovern with as many votes as all the other delegates combined, and rushing on to the magic number that assures first ballot nomination. On the other hand, there is a slim chance, yet, that if all the other contenders stand firm, they could deny McGovern a first ballot nomination and then throw the convention open.

The warning, therefore, could have wide repercussions. Humphrey added: "Several recent polls indicate that there could be a defection of moderate Democrats to Nixon—a defection of astonishing size, and one which could create an electoral disaster threatening the loss of one and possibly both houses of Congress."

What the Senator from Minnesota was discussing was the views which have brought McGovern such wild response, but which in the electorate as a whole may bring disaster. These include the controversial $1,000 for every man, woman and child in the country, ending the Vietnam war at once, and cutting military spend to a point where it would endanger security.

McGovern's first test will be with organized labor, traditionally Democratic, but so far withholding its support of the South Dakota Senator despite McGovern's attempts to woo the rank and file.

EARTH'S BETTER HALF

— Mrs. Shirley Temple Black, the former child movie star and now a member of the American delegation to the United Nations environmental conference at Stockholm, proposed giving women more influence in world ecology. She would form a group called "Earth's Better Half." We would gladly agree both to the proposal and the name. After all, women have had age-long experience in the business of better living, which is what ecology is all about.

MRS. CHISHOLM'S AIM

— Representative Shirley Chisholm, the black woman candidate for president, says she wants to have a bloc at the Democratic convention so that "when they start wheeling and dealing we can keep them honest." She promised that "We, the people, are going to be heard at Miami Beach." The fiery 5-foot 4-inch legislator brags she is unbossed and un-bought. She will be heard, and to the point.

Ray Cromley Says

Sino-Soviet Feud Heats

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The Soviet Union has begun a campaign to separate the Chinese Red army from Mao Tse-tung and to stir up Mao's opponents to take action against him.

Whatever Soviet underground agents may be doing secretly, the Moscow radio is openly beaming broadcasts to China, some of which, in effect, seek to incite the army to revolt.

Some broadcasts play to the fears of China's army officers. They assert Mao's army purges will not stop with the top men. They predict hundreds of thousands of "high and middle ranking commanders" will be replaced or persecuted.

Some appeal to the army's patriotism. These broadcasts assert that Mao is causing disunity within China, that Mao's policies are a direct threat to the country and that therefore Mao must be stopped.

Now it is certainly true that Mao is already having some difficulties with his army. Reports from China out of Hong Kong indicate some serious difficulties between the army, local party officials and the people in quite a number of localities. Apparently, there is considerable uneasiness among army officers in one province and another over the seemingly arbitrary removal of Lin Piao, as there was when Peng Teh-huai was ousted as head of the army to make room for Lin Piao. In fact, the dissatisfaction over the manner in which Peng was ousted remains strong in some quarters to this day.

But this is a far different thing from predicting the army will revolt.

The Soviet broadcasts aimed at creating dissension in China, in fact, shift and turn erratically. They seem poorly planned and not capable of producing action in any event.

The indications are that the Soviet Union, like the rest of the world, is so confused at what is happening internally in China that its propaganda men are playing by ear, and poorly.

Some China watchers in Hong Kong believe therefore the major Soviet objective is simply to muddy the waters a little and put doubts about the future in people's minds.

The Russians may be attempting to curry favor with Mao's opponents — in case the odds come to power.

Whatever Moscow's objective, one thing is quite clear to some of the analysts who watch the ins and outs of Soviet policy:

The heavy handed Russian attempts at interference in Chinese domestic policies indicates strongly the Russians have given up hope of any rapprochement with China so long as Mao is the head of the Peking government.

This would be a decision of the greatest importance to the United States. For, if true, it would mean that Moscow and Peking are not likely to come to terms sufficiently to "gang up" militarily or politically on the United States in the years just ahead in a way which could seriously endanger U. S. security.

The Hot Line to Heaven

Prayer in our family has always been a casual thing, like breathing. No one mentions it but everybody does it. It's a small premium on a heavenly insurance policy. And, like brushing teeth night and morning, it becomes a habit. At the pearly gates, we hope to have no cavities.

Some years ago, I began to collect favorite prayers of famous personages. Dwight Eisenhower wrote one for his first inauguration and kept it in his room on a plastic card: "Give us, we pray, the power to discern clearly right from wrong, and allow all our words and actions to be governed thereby and by the laws of this land. Especially, we pray that our concern shall be for all the people, regardless of station, race or calling."

The president of the United Lutheran Church in America, Franklin Clark Fry, drew solace from this one: "O God, from Whom all holy desires, all good counsels, and all just works do proceed: Give unto Thy servants that peace which the world cannot give; that our hearts may be set to obey Thy commandments, and also that by Thee, we, being defended from the fear of our enemies, may pass our time in rest and quietness."

Harry S. Truman's favorite: "Oh, Almighty and everlasting God, creator of Heaven, Earth and the Universe, help me to be, to think to a T what is right; make me truthful, honest and honorable in all things; make me intellectually honest for the sake of right and honor and without thought of reward to me."

Mary Pickford's plea is touching: "I sincerely desire to see clearly my shortcomings, my faults, my sins. I earnestly pray to be humble, obedient and loving in order that I may inherit here and now and forever my divine sonship, to be worthy to walk with Thee."

Rabbi Louis Finkelstein's favorite is the traditional prayer said when the scrolls of Jewish law are taken from the Ark:

"Master of the Universe, fulfill the wishes of my heart for good; grant my request, even that of Thy servant, the son of Thy maidservant, and my children, and grandchildren, to do Thy will with a perfect heart. Save me from evil desire. Make the Torah our portion, and do Thou grant us the merit that Thy divine presence may be with us; bestow upon us the spirit of wisdom, and understanding, of counsel and strength, of the spirit of knowledge and the fear of the Lord."

"May it also be Thy will, O Lord our God and God of our fathers, that I may be granted the opportunity to deeds of righteousness in Thine eyes, and to walk in the ways which are upright before Thee. Sanctify us through Thy commandments, so that we may attain the good and long life of the Future World; and protect us from evil deeds and the evil hours which afflict this world. As for him who trusteth in God, let loving kindness surround him. Amen, selah."

Clare Boothe Luce, author, favors Lord Astley's prayer:

"Lord, Thou knowest

I shall be verie busie this day

I may forget Thee. Do not

Thou forget me."

Ovet a Culp Hobby,

publisher of the Houston Post, states her plea simply and directly: "Almighty God, make us to know the light of Thy spirit; lighten our darkness; defend us from all perils and danger; give unto

Thy servants that peace which the world cannot give, that our hearts may be set to obey Thy commandments and express Thy love for mankind."

Eddie Cantor was a funny man onstage, but in the dark of night, alone, he murmured: "Dear God: Please help me to repay the debt I owe America, the land of the Free and the Home of the Brave. And make me able to help those who need help. Amen."

Louis Bromfield, famous author penned his personal prayer: "... I thank You for the gift of loving and being loved, for the friendliness and understanding and beauty of the animals on the farm and in the forest and marshes, for the green of the trees, the sound of a waterfall, the darting beauty of the trout in the brook."

"I thank you for the delights of music and children, of other men's thoughts and conversations and their books to read by the fireside or in bed with the rain falling on the roof or the snow flying past outside the window..."

The soul is the direct line to God. As the Father of us all, He doesn't mind if you call collect...

THE GOSSIP COLUMN by ROBIN ADAMS SLOAN

Q. Is there any truth to the rumor that the late J. Edgar Hoover was a homosexual? — R. F., Pittsburgh.

A. The 77-year-old director of the F.B.I. never married. He constantly lunched, dined and vacationed with his longtime sidekick and No. 2 man at the bureau, Clyde Tolson. Consequently this rumor was rampant for years and when Hoover died and left half a million dollars to Tolson, it intensified. But Hoover's dedicated passion for keeping track of homosexuals, crusading against them, screening them out of the F.B.I. and government, as well as making frequent disparaging notes in the files of persons he suspected of being deviate, leads one to assume that Hoover was not himself an active homosexual. In spite of his touching domestic notes to his housekeeper that "Mr. T." might like pancakes for breakfast or this-and-that for lunch, Hoover was an uptight puritan who would likely have been shocked at anything overtly sexual in his own feelings. Hoover's real loves were the bureau, its publicity, horse racing, and bending an occasional elbow in his off hours.

Add Sessions

The Kids Crusade being conducted nightly through Sunday at the Bethel Assembly of God, 11 Esopus Avenue has been expanded to two sessions due to the great response. The crusade hours are 6 and 7:30 p.m. every night with the exception of Saturday.

Q. I hear rumors Steve McQueen and Ali MacGraw are madly in love and were really smooching it up when they were here making a film together. But isn't she married? — G. R., El Paso, Tex.

A. Funny, G. R., we hear the same rumor. And we hear it louder and clearer all the time. Yes, Ali is married to Paramount executive Bob Evans, her second husband. Bob's heard the rumor too. Nobody's talking, but nobody needs to.

Q. Why does Marlene Dietrich continue to do those one-woman shows? I see where she's off to Europe again for another concert tour. After all, she's not that young any more. — P. P., Omaha, Neb.

A. Marlene says, "I sing because I need the money for myself and for people dependent on me, and because I like what I do. It's only two hours a night — with applause. Other people work much harder than that."

Q. What do the older, more conservative movie actresses think of all the younger ones having babies with boyfriends rather than husbands? — T. R., Millersville, Md.

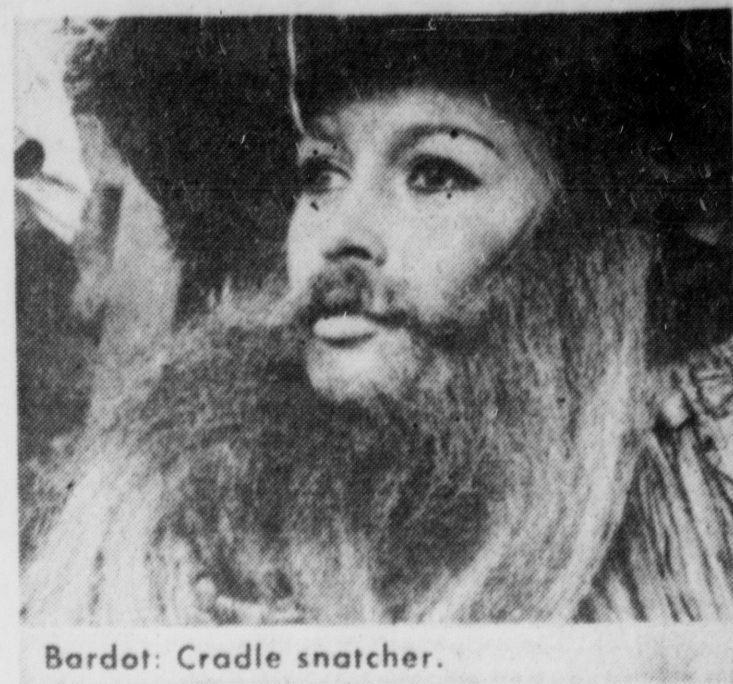

A. Well, the younger actresses may be having babies with boyfriends, but many of the older ones are too busy with baby boyfriends to care. To name a few — Dinah Shore, June Lockhart, Brigitte Bardot, Audrey Hepburn, Jeanne Moreau, Liza Minnelli, Lana Turner, Dorothy Collins are all stuck on or married to much younger men. Even Shirley MacLaine, who is usually outspoken about everything, is dating a man somewhat her junior while insisting she and reporter Pete Hamill are the same age.

McQueen: King of the smoochers.

Dietrich: It's not hard.

Bardot: Cradle snatcher.

Q. Would you settle the silliest bet in the world by telling us the record number of puppies born in one litter? — L. J., Quincy, Ill.

A. The world's record, established 27 years ago, was shattered only a few weeks ago. An Alsatian in Manchester, England, gave birth to 24 healthy pups. The usual litter for this breed is from five to eight. The earlier record was set by a foxhound in Pennsylvania who had 23 little ones.

Q. Has Lee Marvin calmed down since his marriage? — W. P., Hollywood, Calif.

A. Nope, Lee is as obstreperous offscreen as on. Nobody holds him down. Recently, while filming a movie called "Prime Cut," in which he plays a Chicago gangster, Lee was living it up in the staid old Palliser Hotel in Calgary, Canada. The management asked the actor if he could please hold it down to a roar because it was Sunday. Lee's response was to take a case of beer and start passing it out in the lobby and on the street.

Kingston Firm Approved For Jobs Optional Program

A Kingston firm is among area companies approved for Jobs Optional Programs (JOP) according to an announcement made today by Industrial Commissioner Louis L. Levine, head of the State Labor Department. The Kingston Finishing Corp. will provide training for one person as a finish painter.

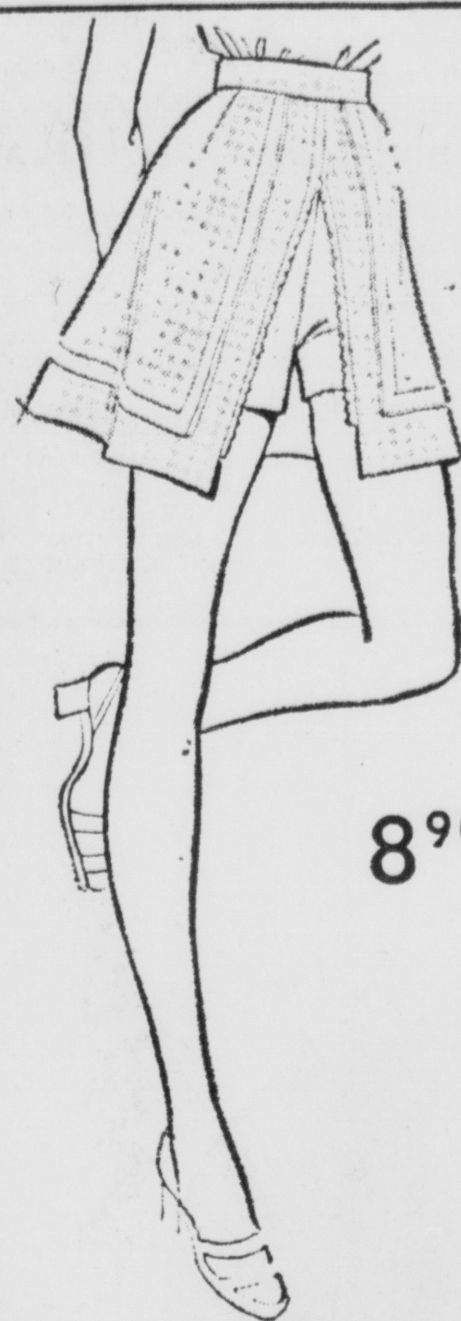

In all training for 23 persons in Westchester, Rockland and Ulster Counties were approved. The firms will be reimbursed a total of $39,347 by the Manpower Services Division for a portion of each trainee's wages, utilizing Federal Manpower Development and Training Act funds.

The Jobs Optional Program provides on-the-job training under the Manpower Development and Training Act. JOP offers employers the opportunity to hire and train disadvantaged and non-disadvantaged persons for permanent employment in jobs that can lead to advancement or higher responsibility. The program also enables employers to upgrade present employees into occupations requiring higher skills or into jobs in which there is a shortage of skilled workers. Vietnam era veterans receive top priority in all job training programs.

Employers wanting information on how to establish a Jobs Optional Program may write to the Manpower Services Division, New York State Department of Labor, State Office Building Campus, Albany, N.Y. 12201.

$3.8 Million Budget Is Adopted in Ellenville

By WADE BURKHART

ELLENVILLE

The turn out Tuesday was light, but the vote was solidly in favor of the proposed 1972-73 budget for the Ellenville School District.

Registered for Tuesday's voting were 1041 district residents, with 1016 votes recorded. In favor of the Budget were 649; 357 were against.

The adopted budget totals $3,824,541. It is about $36,000 less than the budget which was defeated May 3. About 1,500 voted in the May 3 balloting.

School Board President James J. Murray gave much of the credit for the voting results to the youth of the community. "The kids helped sell the budget. The younger voters worked for the budget and voted for it," he said.

"It's a lean budget," said Murray, "but we still think we can keep our educational system going."

At the board meeting which followed the vote, Murray said the budget vote and the successful graduation the district held Monday were a "shot in the arm" for the district.

The passing of the budget enabled the board to proceed with some stalled projects. It awarded the bids for elementary books and supplies which would not have been bought under an austerity budget, and got things moving toward opening the pool for the summer.

The pool operation was a separate proposition in the May 3 balloting but failed to pass by a tie vote. It was included in the budget this time, and

Name Correction

In a photo caption in Monday's Daily Freeman on entertainment day activities at the Sophie G. Finn School, the name of one of the students was incorrectly listed as Richard Wolven. The youth's name is Richard Colvin.

passed with the rest of the budget.

The original proposition contained money for extensive repairs for the pool. The budget passed Tuesday did not.

Superintendent of Schools Thomas J. Hayden said some final painting, held up by the weather, could be completed quickly, and they could begin filling the pool and "see if it holds water."

He said when the pool opened depended on how quickly it could be filled. Doug Maier was appointed director of the pool.

Joseph Savarese was appointed assistant principal of the high school, at a salary of $13,500 a year. His contract will run from July 1, 1972 to June 30, 1973.

Savarese will come to Ellenville as an administrative intern with the State University at Albany serving as his sponsoring university.

Board member Jack Siegel offered a motion that Anthony Percoco and Marcus Kalipolites be appointed principal and vice principal of the high school respectively, but his motion failed for lack of a second.

Siegel said Percoco and Kalipolites had applied for the jobs, and he wanted to appoint from within the school system.

Percoco is in the guidance department, and Kalipolites is a teacher.

Mrs. Florence Kirby, attending her last board meeting as a board member, pointed out that neither Percoco nor Kalipolites was certified for the position. She said Savarese soon would be certified, and advised against appointing an uncertified person to either of the positions.

Savarese will fill the position vacated by Charles Jackson, who resigned.

Most of the district's contracts with employee groups terminate June 30, and the board voted to continue to pay the employees at the present rate pending final agreement.

Mrs. Kirby was praised by Murray and Siegel for her service on the board. Siegel read a prepared statement lauding her dedication to education and her honesty and integrity, and presented her with a bouquet.

Gasoline Tanker Explodes, Two Critically Injured

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (UPI)—A wrecked gasoline tanker truck carrying 8,600 gallons of gas exploded and engulfed two policemen in flames just as they arrived to investigate the accident Tuesday night.

Patrolmen Tom McGough and Leonard LaMatrice, both of Steubenville, were in "extremely critical condition" at Mercy Hospital in nearby Pittsburgh, with third-degree burns over 90 per cent of their bodies. The intense heat melted the badge one officer was wearing.

The explosion and fire destroyed the Standard Oil Co. truck when its brakes failed on a long, steep road in Steubenville, Ohio. The driver managed to leap out of the cab and was not hurt.

Meeting Canceled

The Rosendale Democratic Club meeting scheduled Thursday has been canceled due to the death of a member. The July meeting will be held as usual.

Also destroyed were the police cruiser and six city buses parked in a lot where the truck crashed. Two nearby houses were damaged as well in addition to a huge barn owned by the Steubenville Bus Co.

Police said the driver of the truck, Willie J. Culler, 28, of North Canton, Ohio, lost control on a road in the city's north end after the brakes failed. The truck swerved around a bend breaking tanker broke open, sending gasoline gushing into the street and spraying houses. Culler turned off the cab's ignition and ran to safety while an eyewitness notified police and firemen. Five minutes later, McGough and LaMatrice arrived at the scene.

The eyewitness, but who declined to give his name, said one of the officers may have precipitated the explosion by dropping a lit cigarette on the ground.

Woodstock Board Okays Purchase

WOODSTOCK — Both of which Thur Vandenberg, both of which The Woodstock Town Board adjoin the present recreation center.

The board has authorized purchase of two properties that would more than double the size of the town's recreation center on Rock City Road.

At its Tuesday night meeting, the board gave Supervisor Verner L. May permission to sign papers for the St. John Catholic Church property and a four-acre tract of undeveloped farm land now owned by Ar-seven-member Woodstock Planning Board as a replacement for Albert Holmizer of Zena, who resigned recently.

The board named Republican election inspectors for the town's six districts. Serving in District 1 will be Ruth Combs and Gloria Todd; District 2, Rose Ostrander and Clara Van Kleek; District 3, Mary Meller and Ruth Holmizer; District 4, Adele Reynolds and Irene DeGraff; District 5, Olive Shultz and Joan Klaessig; and District 6, Jean Bruckert and Mae Haug.

The board set a public hearing for 8 p. m. on Wednesday, July 5 in the town hall to consider establishment of an Environmental Conservation Commission.

"I tried to flag the policemen down before they got to the gasoline but they pulled across from the truck and stopped," he said.

"The driver got out with a cigarette in his hand, and he dropped it as if to step on it, but the gasoline exploded. The other officer was still in the car."

Three Nabbed For Drugs

ELLENVILLE — Three men were arrested Tuesday afternoon by village police on charges involving narcotics, implements and other counts, after they were found in the basement of a building at 119 Center Street.

Sergeant John Corwin, who made the arrests with other officers, identified the trio as Herbert Rainey, 36, and Frank Williams, 39, both of Monticello, and Barry Blyden, 20, whose address was listed as Country Club Arms, this community.

The three were booked for criminal possession of dangerous drugs sixth degree—heroin, criminal trespass third degree, possessing hypodermic instruments (set of works) and loitering for the purpose of using drugs.

Rainey also was cited for resisting arrest on a complaint of Corwin. Rainey was committed to the county jail in lieu of $3,000 bail. The others were held in $2,500 bail each.

Corwin said the arrests resulted from an investigation by Detective Sergeant George Sheeley. Assisting were Lieutenant John J. Phillips and Officer Joseph R. Mantone.

Douse Fire On Hill

GLENERIE

Volunteer firemen from the Glasco Fire Department extinguished burning power lines today after a tree had fallen on them.

The incident took place on Glenerie Hill near Rinaldi's Auto Body Shop. Glasco Chief John Mauro with 15 men and two pieces of equipment responded to the alarm and were back in quarters shortly before noon. Crews from Central Hudson were on hand to make repairs.

Susan Agnew To Marry

WASHINGTON (AP) — Miss Susan Scott Agnew, daughter of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, will marry a Baltimore man this winter, the vice president and his wife announced today.

Miss Agnew, 24, is engaged to Carroll William Stein, a field investigator for the Maryland Department of Employment and Social Services at Salisbury, Md.

Miss Agnew attended the University of Maryland and is a coordinator of volunteer services for the Eastern Shore State Hospital in Cambridge, Md.

Stein, 30, a graduate of Essex Community College and Towson State College, was best man when Miss Agnew's oldest sister, Pamela, was married in 1969 to Robert DeHaven.

The couple has known one another for eight years, a family spokesman said.

Enough to give 12 generous five-ounce servings of Pepsi and still have some left. It's easy to carry, easy to pour...because the bottle has a handy grip built right into it. And the reseal cap helps lock in that great sparkling Pepsi taste. Next time you have a party, be sure to bring home The Boss...Pepsi-Cola's new 64-ounce bottle!

The biggest way yet to say Pepsi's got a lot to give!

Sheeley Retires . . . Is Principal of Kerhonkson Elementary School

KYSERIKE
Croswell B. Sheeley, principal of Kerhonkson Elementary School for many years, has retired effective June 30.
Sheeley's retirement was accepted with regret by the Rondout Valley Central School Board at its recent meeting, and he was commended for his service. The board also voted to retain Sheeley as a consultant for one month to prepare for the September opening of the school.

Also retiring were Mrs. Alva
Bareika, a Latin teacher in the Rondout Valley High School, and Mrs. Lucy Embree, third grade teacher at the Accord School.

Appointed to the Summer
Migrant Education Program
staff were Sharor Elston,
Cynthia Raymond, and Kathleen

Schoonmaker, teacher aides;
Mrs. Anna S. Kolodziejski, cook; and Mrs. Sandra Schirmer, educational consultant at the Day Care Center.

The board approved purchase of a truck to transport food to the elementary schools, with the state paying three-fourths of the purchase price.

Appointments to take the school census for 1972-73 were:
Mrs. Barbara Cole and Mrs.
Jeanne Krom, Marletown

area; Mrs. Doris Ritter, Rosendale; Mrs. Martha Ean,
Accord; and Mrs. Dinah Mutz, Kerhonkson. The census will be taken between July 1 and August 31.

County Fireman Elected To State Group Position

KERHONKSON metropolitan area. He replaces Robert Cohn who served in that capacity for 20 years.

Gollnick was nominated by Richard Fisher, president of the Gloversville fire fighters union, Harry Hornbeck, secretary of Kingston Local 461, seconded the nomination. Gollnick's election was unanimous.

John Gray was reelected president of the association and Patrick J. Mangan was reelected executive vice president. Eight district vice presidents were also elected. Gollnick had been Third District vice president, a post he was elected to four years ago.

Gollnick, a graduate of Kingston High School, who attended Ulster County Community College, was appointed a third grade fireman in the Kingston Paid Fire Department in July of 1965. He was elected president of Kingston Fire Fighters Local 461 that year and reelected in 1967. He currently serves as treasurer of that association.

Active in community affairs, he headed a team of labor representatives that raised $9,000 for the Ulster County United Way in 1970.

Gollnick is the son of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Frank Gollnick and is married to the former Shirley Brandt.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices opened firm, reversing Tuesday's downward trend.

Advances led declines by a small margin, but trading was exceptionally light.

Opening prices on the New York Stock Exchange included Gulf Oil, up 1/4 to 24 1/2; Levitz Furniture, up 1/4 to 45 1/2; Arctic Enterprises, off 1/4 to 27 1/2; and Merck, up 1/4 to 74 1/2.

Woman Attempts Suicide at Jail

KINGSTON A 19-year-old Kingston woman was in Kingston Hospital today under treatment in the intensive care unit, after she allegedly attempted to commit suicide in a cell at the Ulster County jail where she was held pending appearance in City Court.

She was identified as Cynthia Williams of 17 Furnace Street.

First Sergeant Donald Policastro of the sheriff's staff said the woman was discovered at 8:40 p.m. Tuesday, hanging by a bed sheet that was attached to a light fixture. Policastro reported the woman apparently stood on a waste basket in the cell and then jumped to the floor.

The matron summoned three deputies, who administered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation until a vehicle from Fatum's Ambulance Service arrived and rushed the woman to the hospital.

Authorities said the woman was arrested early yesterday by a security guard at Dwyer's Boat Yard, who reported she was running around boats clad in a T shirt and one sock. Police said the woman had reportedly attempted to take her life on two previous occasions by jumping in the Rondout Creek after she escaped from Middletown State Hospital.

Sinatra Will Appear

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Frank Sinatra, who has been popping up and vanishing again around Europe while congressional rackets probes waited to question him, has agreed to testify voluntarily.

Sinatra's lawyer, Milton Rudin, said Tuesday that the singer will appear on his own before the House Select Committee on Crime July 18. A spokesman for the committee said that under the agreement with Rudin Sinatra will not be served with the subpoenas that have been awaiting him at every U.S. port of entry.

The committee wants to ask Sinatra about a $55,000 investment he made in 1962 in the Berkshire Downs, Mass., horse racing track, which allegedly had underworld connections.

Children's Camp... Plans Are Announced

KINGSTON — The Ulster County Chapter of the New York State Association for Retarded Children recently installed new officers and announced plans for summer camp.

The Association for Retarded Children, a United Way Agency runs the day camp program on the grounds of the Flatbush Reformed Church, Route 32, north of Kingston. The program will include hikes, cook-outs, dramatics and arts and crafts projects. The dates for the day camp are July 3-7; July 10-14; July 17-21; July 24-28; July 31-August 4; and August 7-11. Through the cooperation of the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts the final week will be a sleep-over week August 14-18 at Camp Wendy, Wallkill. The children of the Association will have the use of Camp Wendy, the sleeping in the tents, using the waterfront facilities, and hiking along nature trails.

New officers for the coming year are Arthur R. Palmer Sr., president; Joseph Connerton, vice president; Stan Petro, treasurer; Carl Genna, financial secretary; Joseph Sobon, recording secretary and Linda Carle, corresponding secretary. New board members are Stan Petro, Joseph Pecora, Dr. Edmund Tomaselli and Joseph Sobon. Retiring board members are the Mmes. Mary Kent and Regina Houck, whose terms have expired. Two other vacancies existed due to resignations of Mrs. Doris Mariotti and Herbert Wolf.

Housing Unit Census Figures Released

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Figures released from the United States Department of Commerce on the 1970 census show that 41,454 homes in Ulster County have at least one television set, out of a total of 55,926 housing units.

statistics on housing for each county.

The report also shows that in the county: the 1970 population was 141,241, with an average of 3.1 persons per housing unit. There were 11,222 housing units with air conditioning, including 10,099 with room units and 1,123 with a central system; 32,749 with a clothes washing machine; 16,238 with a clothes dryer and 8,616 with a dishwasher.

A total of 30,018 housing units were built before 1949; 9,175 during the 1950s; 4,597 during 1960-64; and 6,496 from 1965-69. Utility gas was used to cook the meals in 10,496 households; electricity in another 17,729 and bottled, tank or LP gas in another 14,772.

There were 48,949 housing units with complete kitchen facilities and 44,818 with complete bathrooms, both for renters 12,331, and a total of the exclusive use of the 6,566 units were vacant year round with 600 for sale and 1,059 for rent.

Copies of the report for New York State are available for $3.25 each from the Department of Commerce.

High Falls Plans Festive Fourth

HIGH FALLS take part in the bring-your-own picnic supper. They are asked to bring along food and table service. Fires will be available at the site for cooking hot dogs and other foods.

Following the supper a sing-along will be held, with prizes for the best homemade rafts and other floating devices. Games, including a tug-of-war and three-legged sack races, will follow on the Commons. Area residents are invited to display.

The evening will conclude with an after-dark fireworks display.

Publicity Head Named For '73 United Way Drive

KINGSTON

Alfred J. Brocco, Campaign Chairman for the 1973 United Way Drive announced today the appointment of Francis "Skip" Kugelman Jr. as Public Relations and Publicity Chairman. Kugelman served as Public Relations Chairman for the 1970 campaign, which raised more funds than any other United Way Campaign. In making the announcement, Brocco stated that "the appointment of 'Skip' Kugelman brings to our campaign cabinet the experience and leadership in public relations that is so vital for a successful campaign."

FRANCIS KUGELMAN JR.

Kugelman is Assistant Vice President of the Heritage Savings Bank, formerly the Kingston Savings Bank. He is a graduate of Saugerties Central Schools, Albany Business College and the Graduate School of Banking at Brown University, where he served as President of the Freshman and Junior classes.

Kugelman is a past president and presently serves as Public Relations chairman and member of the Board of Directors of the Ulster County Chapter of the American Institute of Banking. He is a licensed Savings Bank Life Insurance Agent, a member of served as Vice President and Public Relations Chairman for the United Way of Ulster County and presently serves on the Board of Directors. Kugelman is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Mid-Hudson Heart Association and Chief of Resources and Productions for the Ulster County Civil Defense. Kugelman resides at Thomas Street, Elmendorf Heights with his wife, the former Veronica Porto, and two children, Patricia and Paul.

The United Way has undergone a complete reorganization since January 1. Not since the 1968 Campaign has the United Way reached the goal that was required to meet the needs of its fifteen member agencies. Earlier this year, Glenn Sutherland was elected President and local business Richard Fredenberg, was appointed Executive Director. This was followed by the appointment of Alfred J. Brocco as Campaign Chairman and William Sloan of Rotron as Associate Chairman. The United Way, with such experience and aggressive leadership looks forward to a successful year . . . a year that the requirements of the youth, elderly, sick and handicapped in Ulster County will be met.

Nursery Teacher Appointment Is Announced

The board of directors of The Community Nursery School announce the appointment of Mrs. Robert Stinmire of Saugerties as the afternoon session teacher for the Nursery School, starting in September 1972.

Mrs. Stinmire is a graduate of Oneonta State Teachers College with a BS in Elementary Education. She taught a first grade in the Saugerties Central School System at the Mount Marion School for three years. She has had two of her four children enrolled in the Nursery School and has participated in the school program for two years. She has also served as substitute teacher for the 1971-72 school year. Mrs.

Stinmire served as a member of the Board of Directors this past year, representing the mothers.

Active in the Girl Scout Program, she was a leader of a Junior Girl Scout Troop and at present is leader of Brownie Troop 109 sponsored by the Atonement Lutheran Church. She has also taught Vacation

Bible School at the Atonement Lutheran Church.

Registration for the afternoon session of the Nursery School are still being accepted. A child must be three years of age by Sept. 1 of the school year to enroll and must have all the necessary immunizations completed before the school year begins.

The School is a participating school, whereby the mother assists the teacher two days a month. The parent sees her child in relation to other children with common needs and benefits from a lower tuition rate. For further information contact Mrs. George A. Turner, Jr. at The Reformed Church of Saugerties.

Club Checks Plans

SAUGERTIES
A recent meeting of the handcraft Club was devoted to a review of the 1972-1973 program of Cooperative Extension. Marilyn Walker presided. The members voted to donate $25 to the Nutritional Aid Program of the Ulster County Cooperative Extension Association. The 1972-1973 program was presented to the club by Clara Gentner and Ella Whitaker, who explained the various classes to be offered for the coming year. Several of the ladies volunteered to take leader training classes in which they were interested. The annual spring luncheon was held June 1 at the Bon Fire Restaurant at 1 p.m. Arrangements were by Beulah Kloes, Eleanor Rothe, Jean Sawitz, and Mildred Schuchhardt.

Eighty Years Young

SAUGERTIES
George G. Jehle Sr., of Saugerties celebrated his 80th birthday recently with his family including his children, grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Among those attending were Lt. Col. and Mrs. Edward J. Jehle (ret), Mr. and Mrs. George G. Jehle Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Morton Jehle, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Hehle, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Johnson and son Adam, Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey M. Jehle and Miss Carolyn Jehle. Also, Jehle's wife of 59 years and her sister, Lee Feinstein. Jehle came to Saugerties 27 years ago purchasing property on Band Camp Road. According to Mrs. Jehle, they maintained and improved the area and by releasing parcels on their property, they were pioneers of a community that now numbers 20 families, new taxpayers to Saugerties.

Saugerties To Be Site of Convention

Saugerties has been chosen as the site of the 1977 convention of the Hudson Valley Firemen's Association. Fire Chief Ernest Dunn has announced. The village was selected at the 83rd annual convention held recently in Ballston Spa, New York. The event, which usually attracts as many as 7,000 firemen, was last held in Saugerties in 1934. Three Saugerties men addressed the recent convention: Robert Wade, Ulster County vice-president of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association, A. Michael Schovel, Saugerties Town Supervisor, and former Fire Commissioner Donald McCaig, who read a letter from Mayor Cornelius Cox, inviting the firemen to Saugerties for their 88th annual convention. Saugerties volunteer firemen also won a trophy as the best appearing unit in the 30 to 49-man group at the convention.

More Awards

Three P-T-A scholarships were awarded. The Grant D. Morse School Award ($100) went to Michael Bond. The Mt. Marion School Award ($100) was received by Linda Reader, and the Riccardi School Award ($50) was won by Wendy Walker. The awards are given to those planning to become teachers and are based on personality, character, scholarship, deportment, and need. The Faculty Men of Saugerties Senior High School Award (plaque) to the best all-around athlete during his high school career went to Richard Koegel. The Delta Kappa gamma Grant-in-Aid ($200) to a female graduating student who has shown a sincere interest in teaching, and based on academic achievement and need, was awarded to Elizabeth Nau. A Special Appreciation Award ($25 from the Sawyer Band Booster Club went to Janice Welton for her creation of an emblem to be used by the group, and a special award for six years of perfect attendance went to Patricia Spenson.

Burkhardt, Immediate Enlist in 156th Artillery

Sgt. William Ferguson, full time recruiter for the First Battalion, FA, 156th Artillery, has announced the enlistment of two Ulster County men in his unit.

Frederick Burkhardt, 18, of West Shokan and Joseph Immediato, 20, of West Hurley, recently took the oath of allegiance together. Captain John F. Whitaker, Battery Commander of Service Battery, was in charge.

Sgt. Ferguson noted that after attending eight weeks of basic combat training at an Army Training Center, the men will complete their six months active duty requirement by attending army service schools.

Burkhardt, employed as a mechanic at Hilltop Service Station, West Hurley, will attend an automotive maintenance school. Immediato, a route salesman for Morgan Linen Co., will train to become an artillery ammunition specialist.

The announcement is in conjunction with a campaign currently under way at the local National Guard Armory on North Manor Avenue. The following hours will be observed, with officers present, to sign recruits — daily from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Tuesday from 7-9 p.m. Interested young men will be interviewed or questions answered during these hours. For those who desire, an AFQT test may be taken immediately to see if the individual can meet the standards. Attendance at a typical drill assembly on Saturday or Sunday by interested individuals is encouraged. Further information is available by calling S/Sgt. Bill Ferguson, the local Guard recruiter, at 331-1560.

Listen Veteran... GI Bill

Taking a breather from your studies under the GI Bill this summer? If you are, you can rest assured you will not lose any of your remaining entitlement when you return to school in the fall. Just so long as you plan to return to the same course of study in the same school it will not be necessary for you to apply for a new certificate of eligibility. And those veterans who are fortunate enough to secure summer employment will be glad to know their monthly allowances while studying will not be affected by their earnings on the job. The allowances are based on whether a veteran is pursuing his studies on a full or part-time basis, and the number of dependents he may have. Get the facts and counseling on these benefits from the local counseling center in the Ulster County Office Building, third floor. Office Hours: 9 to 5. Here's a Reminder for all veterans now studying or planning to begin this fall — eligibility for financial assistance under the GI Bill ceases eight years from the date of discharge, or by May 31, 1974, whichever is later.

Rhinebeck GI At Fort Ord

Bruce A. Hapeman, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Hapeman of Bulls Head Road, Rhinebeck, has been assigned to Fort Ord, California, where he is training under the modern volunteer army field experiment.

The new concept, called Volar, combines basic and advanced individual training into a single 16-week program. Decentralized instruction at the unit level and a reduction of formations and inspections gives the soldier more time to train and increased off-duty time.

Fewer restrictions on off-duty travel and improved living facilities are other benefits of the Volar concept.

Pvt. Hapeman began his training with Company H, 5th Battalion of the 1st Brigade May 26 and is scheduled to complete the first phase on July 21.

Short Line on Summer Time

MAHWAH, N.J. — Short Line announced today that it has issued the system-wide summer schedule which went into effect Sunday, June 25. The new schedule reflects additional service designed to accommodate the increase in travel that occurs during "summer vacation months."

Service to Danbury, Conn., will be instituted on June 25 with buses operating over Interstate 84 between Newburgh and Danbury. At Danbury, convenient connections are made with Super Service Coach and Greyhound Lines for service to Waterbury, Hartford, Boston, Providence and intermediate points.

A first for residents of the Rhinebeck-Hyde Park area will also commence on June 25 when Short Line institutes express interstate bus service between those communities and New York City. Short Line's new schedule provides for three round trips daily with direct service available to Paramus, N.J., as well as New York City. The New York City terminus is the Port Authority Bus Terminal.

Short Line will use its latest GM high-level coaches with comfort features such as reclining seats, tinted windows and restrooms on these runs. Complete schedule information may be obtained at the Trailways Terminal at Broadway and Pine Grove Avenues, Kingston, or by writing Short Line, 17 Franklin Turnpike, Mahwah, N.J.

In Lincoln-Mercury '200 Club'

TOWN OF ULSTER
Eddie Dayton, a salesman at DeWitt Lincoln-Mercury, East Chester Street Bypass, has earned membership in Lincoln-Mercury Division's exclusive "200 Club." J. J. Collins, New York district sales manager, has announced.

"Mr. Dayton's outstanding 1971 sales achievement has placed him in the top 15 per cent of all Lincoln-Mercury salesmen," Collins said, and adding "he and other members of the '200 Club' played an important part in the division's record sales performance in 1971."

"We are fortunate to have men like Mr. Dayton representing our products with such professional excellence and dedication," the district sales manager concluded.

Selection to the "200 Club" is administered by the Lincoln-Mercury Sales Council, a nationwide organization of top Lincoln-Mercury salesmen.

Dayton was honored for his selling achievement at a "200 Club" banquet held recently at the Tavern-on-the-Garden, Central Park, New York City.

KINGSTON available by calling David Sawick at the Mayfair Theatre, or Daniel Cox, Mayfair Theatre.

The area premiere of Columbia Picture's "Nicholas and Alexandra" is scheduled tonight at Walter Reade's Mayfair Theatre with a capacity crowd expected to attend. The premiere will kick off the Walter Reade Summer movie-going season in Kingston, and inaugurate the summer drive period in more than 80 Reade Theaters in the United States.

City Manager Daniel Cox will welcome the list of area notables attending, and will present a product preview of film that will be playing in Walter Reade Theatres here during the summer. In his prepared remarks he said "This summer promises to revitalize the entire motion picture industry. Not only is the film product and quality first grade, but there is enough product to accommodate virtually every theatre. We are looking forward to the biggest film season ever offered this area."

Invited guests of the Walter Reade Organization will attend a Russian Homecoming Party from 7:30 until 8:15 featuring vodka, caviar, tid-bits, and a motif of brightly colored flowers highlighting the Czar's emblem and insignia.

Cox will extend to the audience greetings from President and Chairman of the Board, Walter Reade Organization, Walter Reade Jr.

"Nicholas and Alexandra" opens Thursday, on a continuous performance-popular price basis. Matinees Daily at 2, weekday evening performances at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, Sunday, and Holidays three performances at 2, 5:15 and 8:30 p.m. Special attention to parties and groups is

Summer Recycling Drive Scheduled

KINGSTON, in Stone Ridge, July 8 and 9 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. for all recyclable materials.

● The West Hurley Methodist Church, Route 28, July 8 from 1-3:30 p.m. and July 9 from 12-4 p.m. for all materials.

● Grand Union parking lot in Port Ewen, July 8 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. for all materials.

● Town of Hurley, near the Hurley Firehouse, Friday, July 7 from 6-9 p.m. for all materials.

Also, collection of recyclable materials will take place throughout the Town of Olive on July 8. Residents are asked to place their materials along town roads by 9 a.m. Saturday for pick-up throughout the day.

As in past drives, papers and magazines should be tied in bundles not exceeding 25 pounds, or placed in cardboard cartons or paper bags. All colors and sizes of glassware and bottles are acceptable, although they should be cleaned thoroughly, and all metal rings should be removed. Only all aluminum, seamless cans will be accepted.

Coordinating efforts of the collection drive will be the Environmental Task Force, the Combined Conservation Commissions of Marlton and Rochester and the Town of Esopus Conservation Commission.

Since ecology drives were started more than a year ago by the Environmental Task Force, a division of the Total Community Development Program of the Chamber of Commerce of Ulster County, more than 800,000 pounds of paper, 200,000 pounds of glass and close to a ton of aluminum has been collected, recycled and saved from the county's landfills.

NEW PALTZ Dr. Ray Huang, professor of History in the department of Asian studies at the State University College at New Paltz, has been named recipient of an advance research fellowship from the American Council of Learned Societies, and a grant from the National Science Foundation.

The combined stipend and award, totaling $19,600, will enable Dr. Huang to further his studies on the socio-economic conditions in 16th century Ming China at Cambridge, England.

The outcome of his research will be published in the concluding volume of Science and Civilization in China, authored

They are receiving instruction in written communication, effective listening, motivation and charm, as well as copy and office machines, telephone techniques, and office safety.

The opening session Monday was a discussion on written communication by Dr. James Loricchio, Associate Professor of Business.

The Tuesday session includes instruction in listening by Lillian Styles, an engineering education specialist at IBM Kingston; and telephone techniques by Mrs. Bernice Fitzgerald, service advisor for the New York Telephone Company, Kingston.

The Wednesday program includes Felix Ambrose of IBM, Kingston speaking on office machines and Frank Turner of the Chester Satz Co., Poughkeepsie discussing copy machines.

On Thursday, "motivation" is the topic discussed by Miss Styles, and a former Miss Massachusetts in the Miss America contest, Judy MacIsaac of Kingston, will give a talk on charm.

Two films on office safety are slated for Friday.

Husband, Wife...Just Cause

By JON POWERS

KINGSTON Some people will do just about anything for a cause; Millie and Jack Ferkins are miles ahead of the rest of the field.

The husband and wife team from Harris, N.Y., has welded themselves inside a traveling van for a 15-month jaunt across the United States, proclaiming along the way the dangers of drug abuse.

They arrived in Kingston Tuesday for a two-day visit with the street people; and took time out to explain what they're doing, and why.

The couple has 11 children (this is the second marriage for both), and, said Ferkins, "We've had some problems in our family with drugs." Mrs. Ferkins, a former employee in the Monticello school district, said she witnessed the drug rampage among school children, and Ferkins added that he came in contact with the drug problem while a security officer at a Monticello department store.

So they decided to join the fight. Their campaign has received the endorsement of the New York State Narcotics Administration Control Commission, as well as a number of private agencies, such as Daytop, that are involved in narcotics rehabilitation.

The Ferkins left from Arlington, Tex., on April 8. After criss-crossing the country numerous times, they'll return to Texas July 8, 1973.

But to set their campaign apart from all others, the Ferkins have welded themselves into mobile van. They'll spend 15 months confined in its quarters, taking in supplies through the bars on the windows.

The Ferkins will make 3,000 stops in 1,000 cities throughout the United States. They hand out anti-drug literature, offer advice to youngsters with a drug problem, and solicit funds that are distributed among agencies that deal with narcotics rehabilitation. They also keep a share of the donations for food, gas, and expenses.

Perkins feels they've accomplished much in the three short months they've been on their journey. He said they've referred a number of youthful addicts to rehabilitation centers; handed out more than 6,000 pieces of literature while in New York alone; and counseled teenagers on the dangers of narcotics abuse.

"We're sincere in this drive," said the 56-year-old Ferkins, bet from a friend. "We're trying to help as many kids as we can." He added that their staid with the welded van is an "attention getter" but that it's legitimate. "There are no trap doors," he said. "If we have to get out, we have to smash the back window."

The Ferkins will stay in Kingston until Thursday morning, visiting area shopping centers and business districts, trying to reach as many people as possible. Then they head for Albany.

The Ferkins are accompanied by their 23-year-old son, Ronald Vandemark, who maintains the van (donated by the Dodge Division of Chrysler Corp.) and shops for needed supplies.

Their home on wheels for the next year doesn't offer many comforts. It contains a fully equipped kitchen, bathroom, stereo system, mobile telephone, television, and 20 feet of exercise space.

"It's not easy," said Ferkins, but he explained that self-hypnosis carries him through the rough spots. Stunts like this are not new to the New York native. In 1949, he chained himself to the wheel of a car and drove non-stop from New York to San Francisco without sleep, on a bet from a friend. A year later he repeated the feat, dubbed himself "Polio Paul" and raised funds along the way for the fight against infantile paralysis. In 1953, he drove a hearse through 48 states and 750 cities, without getting out, to raise money for a Lodi, N.J. blood drive. He stayed inside that hearse for 14 straight months. In 1956, he welded himself inside a car, and then drove through Florida for six weeks to raise funds for a children's safety campaign. His latest feat should be a cinch by comparison.

Independence Day...Special Tribute

RHINEBECK Independence Day in Rhinebeck will take the form of a special tribute at 2:30 p.m. July 2, re-enacting his ory.

The place will be the Beek man Arms lawn. The Minutemen of '72 will march from the Old Dutch Reformed Church led by a color guard carrying the Betsy Ross flag and the American flag and the Minutemen of '76 flag. Col. John Armstrong Chanler, Corp Commander, will read a portion of the Declaration of Independence. The young officer is a descendant of Chancellor Robert R. Livingston, who was one of the men to draft the Declaration.

After the reading, drummers will do a roll as a cannon salute is fired. A small bell tower will be constructed for the occasion and the Dutch Reformed Church bell will also be sounded.

In 1775 Chancellor Robert R. Livingston, a Rhinebeck resident, was selected by the Continental Congress with Roger Sherman, John Adams, Benjamin Franklin and Thomas Jefferson to compose the famous document.

Livingston submitted his ideas after careful meditation while sitting in his pew at the local church. Jefferson was chosen by the committee to compose the Declaration.

Following the Revolutionary War the Chancellor administered the oath of office to George Washington, using his family bible.

On July 4, Col. Henry Beekman Livingston, a brother, was in Rhinebeck still recovering from an illness contracted when fighting with Gen. Richard Montgomery at the siege of Montreal. On July 9 the news of the Declaration of Independence came by special messenger to the New York delegates of the Provincial Congress meeting in White Plains.

According to some descendants' letters, Col. Henry Livingston immediately sent the news with a copy of the Declaration to Sgt. Stephen McCarty, who was attending a Reformed Church pastor drill of recruits in the village square in front of the Bogardus church bell to signal citizens that important news had reached town.

The company was called to attention and the sergeant read the Declaration to the men. There are 46 graves behind the church of men fallen in the Revolutionary War.

Philharmonic to Head Program at Wilcox Park

A full day of entertainment has been scheduled for Wilcox Park July 8, with the Hudson Valley Philharmonic to highlight the program.

The park is on Route 199, directly east of the Taconic Parkway.

The Philharmonic is cooperating with the Parks and Recreation Commission of Dutchess County for the sponsorship of the agenda.

A contest of bands—rock, folk, country—will begin at 2 p.m. with one-half hour allotted to each group. The contest ends at 6 p.m. and prizes of $100, $50, and $25 will be awarded. The Philharmonic will begin a program of light classical music at 8 p.m. Allan Miller, August Mozart Festival, and the guest conductor, will direct the Late-Late concerts in New York.

to include: a Vivaldi Concerto for Two Trumpets; Suppe's "Light Cavalry Overture"; "Fandango" by Bizet; "Pops Department of the National Hoedown"; Rossini's "William Tell Overture" and more by Beethoven and Charles Ives.

Miller, who will be conducting a series of eight concerts for the Philharmonic this summer, is former music director of New York's Channel 13 and associate conductor of the Denver Symphony Orchestra.

He has also conducted the Minnesota, Los Angeles, and offices of the county executive.

Brownies 151 Swim Party

TOWN OF ULSTER

Brownies of Troop 151 attended a swim party recently at the home of their leader, Mrs. Michael Klein. The Troop formed a Brownie Ring beside a make-believe pond, which was decorated by Cadets Debbie Stevens, Karen McCollough and Kathy Klein. Each Brownie was given a certificate and star pin for their participation during the year. The Brownies then met Mrs. Stephen Markoe who will be their new leader in the fall.

The following Brownies were selected by their Troop to best fulfill the Brownie "B" they represented: Doreen Brodhead, Miss Discover; Laurie Klein, Miss Ready Helper and Kelly Dahl as Miss Friend Maker. JoAnn Coddington was chosen the perfect appearing Brownie and Brenda Milone was crowned Miss Song Leader of the year.

The girls who worked for Keep America Beautiful Day were given certificates from Carroll's for free hamburgers. Mrs. Joseph Coddington and Mrs. Edward Milone were thanked for the generous help and assistance they gave the Troop. The Cadettes completed their Game Leader Badge by teaching the Brownies 12 new games.

Cub Pack 3 Has Picnic

KINGSTON

St. Joseph's Cub Pack No. 3 held its annual picnic at Forsyth Park June 11. The cubs and their families enjoyed a picnic lunch which was followed by the Pinewood Derby Race. Each cub was allowed to trial run his racer and then the official race started. The results were as follows:

First place was captured by Kevin Higgins, second by Dennis Ryan, and third by Michael Mills. Robert Ryan's racer was named the best looking with the best workmanship. Prizes and ribbons were awarded to the winners. Judges for the event were Tom Cerwonka, Donald Droulette, Ed Higgins, Paul Mills, Carl Thurin and Grant Wood.

Ronald Matthews, cubmaster, announced that on June 18 a trip was made to the Rhinebeck Aerodrome for the cubs.

Troops 43, 77 Have Fly-Ups

WOODSTOCK

Girl Scouts of Troop 43 and the Brownies of Troop 77 held their Fly-Up ceremony recently at St. Gregory's Church. The following Brownies of Mrs. James Robinson's troop, broke through the Brownie Ring completing their two years of Brownies and moved into Junior Girl Scouts: Susan Barg, Patricia Grey, Stacy Ettinger, Eva Every, Celeste Hart, Lisa Mayone, Rosemarie McLaughlin, Beth Owens, Lisa Serven, Janice Smith and Erin Zimmerman.

The following Girl Scouts of Mrs. Donald Sutherland's Troop 77, completed three years of Junior Scouting and went into the Cadettes: Jane Hajec, Elizabeth Collar, Karen Letersky, Ann Dwyer, Beth Neumann, Linda McLaughlin. Cadettes Sue Nelson and Lynn Donoghue welcomed the girls into Troop 207.

Pool Death ... Investigation Is Continuing

ELLENVILLE
Investigation was continued today into the death of a 16-year-old emphysema sufferer at the Nevele Hotel whose body was discovered at the bottom of an indoor swimming pool at the resort at 3 p. m. Tuesday.

Ulster County Coroner Arthur C. Chipp of Kerhonkson, who investigated with BCI Investigator Jack R. Ostmark, ordered an autopsy on the body of the victim, Julius Han of Jackson Heights, who was employed at the hotel as a pantryman.

Authorities said the body was identified by the youth's father, Han Ling Han, a breakfast cook at the resort. Han was pronounced dead by Dr. Gerald Schoenfeld of Baltimore, Md., a guest at the hotel.

Coroner Chipp reported that a lifeguard, Robert Arons of Brooklyn, opened the swimming pool which was reserved for guests at 2:35 p. m. He was in the shallow end of the pool with some children when Herbert Kruton, Atlanta, Ga., a guest, discovered Han's body on the bottom of the deep section of the pool.

Kruton shouted to the lifeguard who removed the youth from the water and made an unsuccessful attempt to revive him through artificial respiration, authorities said. Investigators said the victim was "off limits" as employees are not permitted to use the indoor pool.

Chipp reserved a finding pending an autopsy report and further investigation by state police.

Jaycees Working on Flood Drive

KINGSTON
The Kingston Jaycees are coordinating a drive to help the flood victims of New York State and Pennsylvania.

"In co-operation with the Red Cross of Ulster County we are trying to raise $5000 for the Red Cross disaster fund. We have been told that no more clothing or blankets are needed. However, funds are needed to help the families that have lost homes to get started again and for medical supplies. The Red Cross is trying to raise $10,000,000 total for this fund," stated a Jaycees official.

All contributions should be sent to the Kingston Jaycees at the Gov. Clinton Hotel with all checks made out to the Kingston Jaycees. The campaign will last one week to conclude Tuesday, July 4th.

The Kingston Jaycees are in contact with state Jaycee headquarters and with local chapters in the flood area. If the need for other items should arise we will send out another news release.

"If any group or organization is considering a drive or would like to help us please contact the Jaycees at the Gov. Clinton Hotel or see us at our meeting at the Gov. Clinton Hotel," stated another Jaycees official.

Field Day Set In Marbletown

STONE RIDGE
The second annual field day sponsored by the Marbletown Recreation Committee will be held Tuesday, July 4 at the Marbletown School, Stone Ridge.

A road race will begin at the Krippelbush Firehouse at 9 a.m. Presentation of awards will be made at the school at 9:30 a.m. Presentation of awards will be made by contacting Larry Skalla or Dorothy Pismopoulos.

Other events will get underway at 9:30 a.m. including foot races, sack races and three-legged races. Each race will have a girls and boys division according to age.

In addition there will be bicycle and tricycle races. The later will be 25 yards for children four years and under.

A horseshoe tournament will be held for juniors 49 years and under and seniors, 50 years and older. Entries for this event close at 9:45 a.m. There will be a basketball foul shooting contest also.

New Date

The annual feast and bazaar of the Liberata-St. John Benevolent Society, rained out last weekend, will be held July 1 and July 2 at the St. Liberata Field. Spaghetti and meatball suppers will be served from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. both days. Tickets will be available at the pavilion.

Princess Anne Isn't Planning On Marriage Soon

LONDON (UPI) — Evidently Princess Anne has immediate marriage plans because she's having her suite at Buckingham Palace modernized and redecorated according to her own ideas.

Apart from her riding, Anne much prefers London life to the country and spends more time at the Palace than any other member of the family.

She's having a turquoise and dark brown and soft green scheme, with streamlined wall fittings inspired by those lining the walls in Prince Philip's study. There'll be a special corner for her huge collection of model horses, which she started as a child.

The four-roomed apartment on the second floor comprises sitting room, bedroom and bathroom and a small room with a round table that serves for meals or for Anne and her secretary to deal with her correspondence.

Having so many public engagements now, she needs a daily business session. This room will also serve for cozy luncheon and dinner parties or for drinks and sandwiches after the show or party. Anne likes to bring back the friends with whom she spent the evening and often the cars don't leave until well after midnight.

"I don't want a formal wedding," Karen Anne Knudsen of Stone Ridge told her mother and father. "I want the ceremony and then a party where everyone can have a lot of fun."

The bride got her wish for on Saturday, June 24 when she exchanged nuptial vows with Dennis Lee before the Rev. Robert Grupe of the Reformed Church in America, a revised ceremony was used, the bridegroom addressed family and guests, the tent under which vows were taken had an aura of the circus and happy childhood days, and for the reception guests changed into casual clothes — jeans, shorts and T-shirts.

The Rev. Mr. Grupe, a teacher in the Rondout Valley Central School system, assisted the bride and bridegroom in revising the words of the ceremony and it is the bridegroom's intention that he and his new wife "... renew them constantly to each other." All joined in the acceptable champagne toast and the cutting of a five-tiered wedding cake baked by the bridegroom's father, David Lee.

The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Knudsen. The bride's handwritten invitations had suggested guests come prepared with informal clothes and bathing suits but weather canceled a "spash party" idea.

With all things considered, diversification was certainly the order of the day for the Knudsen-Lee wedding.

Donna M. Tringle Is Bride-Elect

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Tringle of Hampton, Va. announce the engagement of their daughter, Donna Marie, to John Michael Holmzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Holmzer of Woodstock.

The bride-elect is a graduate of York High School. Her fiancé is an alumnus of Kingston High School, is serving in the U.S. Air Force stationed at Langley Air Force Base, Hampton, Va.

An October wedding is planned.

MR. AND MRS. STEPHEN GARDECKI of East Kingston were guests of honor at a party given by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mickle, on Sunday, June 25 at 204 Hinsdale Street, Kingston. The occasion marked the celebrating couple's 45th wedding anniversary. Married June 25, 1927, in St. Ann's Church, Sawkill, Mr. and Mrs. Gardecki are the parents of nine children. They have 33 grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Mr. Gardecki, now retired, was employed by Data Transit in Kingston. More than 50 relatives and friends attended the festivities.

(Dutchmen Enterprises)

Cornish-Kutter

Ann Elizabeth Cornish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison C. Cornish of 242 Broadway, Port Ewen, became the bride of James J. Kutter, Woodstock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kutter of Kew Gardens, N.Y., on Saturday, June 10 at Fair Street Reformed Church.

The Rev. Randal Bosch of Fair Street Reformed Church officiated at the double ring ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Gerald O'Shea of St. John's Church, West Hurley. Gloria Jean Clark, organist, accompanied Harrison Cornish, father of the bride, who sang traditional wedding selections.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white chiffon over taffeta, fashioned with a high neckline, Renaissance sleeves and a train accented with lace appliques. She wore a matching Camelot cap and carried a nosegay similar to the attendants' bouquets, centered with red sweetheart roses.

Cathy Cornish of Port Ewen was maid of honor for her sister. Attendants were Theresa Dispensa of Port Ewen; Mrs. Dom Coddington, Kingston; and Miss Louise Hughes of California. Carol Cornish, sister of the bride, was flower girl.

For her bridal party, the bride chose a color scheme of light blue, yellow, pink, green and purple. The gowns were of dotted Swiss and featured empire waistlines. The attendants wore matching bow headpieces. The flower girl wore a headpiece of cornflowers and baby's breath.

Paul Faircloth of Brooklyn was best man. Ushers were Mike Blackman and Barry Richmond, both of Brooklyn; Dennis Spalmaen of Staten Island; Tom Cornish and Ben Cornish, brothers of the bride, were junior ushers.

A reception for 85 guests was given at Holiday Inn, Kingston.

The bride, a 1970 graduate of Kingston High School, attended Hope College and Marist College. She is employed at American Express Co. Her husband, a 1962 alumnus of Brooklyn Tech High School, attended Pace College and is employed at IBM.

When they return from their wedding trip they will reside at 9 Holly Drive in Woodstock.

MRS. MICHAEL D. GRECO
(Rosary J. Mangano)
(Lakeside Studio)

Marriage Vows Taken

Rosary J. Mangano, daughter of Mrs. Joseph A. Mangano of Hunter, became the bride of Michael D. Greco Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael D. Greco of Saugerties, on Saturday, June 17 at Immaculate Conception Church, Haines Falls.

The Rev. John Tracy celebrated the nuptial Mass, assisted by the Rev. Francis Dunbar. Mrs. Doris Yankowski, organist, provided traditional wedding selections. Given in marriage by her uncle, Vincent J. Mangano Jr., the bride wore ivory satin wedding gown of heavy satin which featured a bodice accented with seed pearls and a cathedral train. A matching cap secured her silk illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of roses.

Helen R. Mangano of

Hunter was maid of honor for her sister in a Nile green chiffon gown. She wore a short veil and carried a cascade of white and green carnations.

Richard Greco of Saugerties served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Dr. Michael Dougherty, Dr. Robert Goldstein, Harvey Leff and Vincent Mangano III.

A reception was given at Friar Tuck in Catskill. The bride, a graduate of State University College at Plattsburgh, is a teacher at Hunter Elementary School. Her husband earned his BS degree at St. Bonaventure University and his DDS degree at Georgetown University.

When they return from their wedding trip to Bermuda, they will reside at Hunter.

Martello-Hardiman

Claire Elizabeth Martello, daughter of Mrs. Anthony S. Martello of 221 Washington Avenue, Saugerties, became the bride of Robert, Dennis Hardiman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie H. Hardiman of Hartland, Wisconsin, on June 11.

The Rev. Msgr. Charles J. Kaufman of St. Mary of the Snow Church in Saugerties officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Roy Potts, organist, accompanied Mrs. Herman Knaust who sang traditional wedding selections. Given in marriage by her brother, Steven J. Martello of Loudonville, the bride selected a white organza gown styled with an empire waist, Juliet sleeves and featuring appliques of Venice lace and a cathedral train. A matching organza picture hat trimmed with Venice lace held her cathedral length veil. She carried a basket of white rosebuds, carnations and stephanotis.

Constance Mary Martello of Saugerties was maid of honor for her sister in a yellow chiffon and organza gown fashioned with white illusion sleeves and bodice. The gown featured cuffs and vest of green, yellow and white Schiffli embroidery. She wore a yellow chiffon Juliet hat with tiered veiling and carried a basket of white daisies.

Dennis Campbell of Harland, Wis. was best man.

A reception was given at Beekman Arms, Rhinebeck.

The bride attended Russell Sage College in Troy. She will complete her senior year at Columbia University, New York City, and is employed in the Student Employment Office of Columbia University. Her husband, an alumnus of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, is a Master of Business Administration degree candidate at Columbia Graduate School of Business. They will reside on Columbia University Campus, Woodbridge Hall, Riverside Drive, New York City.

Club Activities Are Noted

Carnival Planned

Cottekill Firemen's Carnival will be held Friday and Saturday, June 30 and July 1, at 6:30 p.m. at Cottekill firehouse.

Piano Recital

The piano students of Mrs. Roberta C. Hastings presented their first recital Wednesday, June 21 at John A. Coleman High School.

The program consisted of classical, semi-classical, modern and rock selections. Two duets also highlighted the evenings.

Participating in the recital were: Kathy Bodenweber, Frank Casciaro, David Cooke, Peter Fisher, Diane Gubinski, Karen Gubinski, Kathy Hoyt, Kathleen Mahoney, Mary Mahoney, Valerie Mayone, Connie Radell, Diane Schlichting, and Betsy Weishaup.

A capacity audience of parents, relatives and friends attended the event. Classes will resume again in September.

Annual Bazaar

The Woodstock Garden Club will hold its annual bazaar at the Town Hall in Woodstock Saturday, July 15 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Fun, food and bargains are promised. Mrs. John Koerner, chairman, has released the following list of chairmen: Mrs. Ernest Lindroth, baked goods; miscellaneous, Mrs. George Behrens; Mrs. J. Albert Whittaker, plants; Mrs. Henry Rade, plant containers; Mrs. Gilbert Schneider, jewelry; Mrs. Henry Middendorf, books; Miss Gwenn Summers, new articles; Mrs. John DeNero, needlework; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Luters, fund raising project; Mrs. August Hollender, flower arrangement materials; Mrs. George Scherrer, refreshments.

Distaff Digest

The success of this bazaar is important to the club as it helps defray the cost of community projects, such as the landscaping of the post office.

Picnic Meeting Held

Saugerties Society of Little Gardens held its picnic meeting Wednesday, June 21 at the home of Mrs. Roy Helmsmoortel. Guests were induced by Mrs. John Whitenor, president.

Mrs. Whitenor congratulated the members on the success of the flower show. Mrs. Frank Greco reported on the judging of artistic designs and Mrs. James Babb and Mrs. George Sawatz commented on the horticulture division.

The Garden Club's annual science prize to a graduating senior was awarded to Mary Woody. Miss Woody is planning to major in Biology at State University College at Oneonta.

The president extended appreciation for members' cooperation throughout the year. Hostesses were Mrs. Helmsmoortel, Mrs. Whitenor, Mrs. Frank White and Miss Jan Ziegler.

Mrs. Francis Lawless reminded members that the first meeting in the fall will be Wednesday, Sept. 13 at 10:30 a.m. A tour of Innisfree Gardens in Millbrook is planned. Members will be contacted in September for further details.

Recent Convention

The 48th annual convention of the Ladies Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Department of New York was held last week in Saratoga Springs. The convention was well attended by delegates and members from throughout New York State. Attending from Joyce-Schrick Auxiliary, No. 1386, Kingston, were Mrs. Sidney Lane, past department president; Mrs. Thomas Hughes, past president of District No. 2; and Mrs. Albert DeLuca, a department color bearer.

An all-time high was reported in membership and donations to auxiliary-sponsored projects. Members of the local auxiliary received three important appointments: Mrs. Lane will be advisory chairman to the new department president, Mrs. Bertrand Coons of Red Hook; Mrs. DeLuca will be patriotic instructor; and Mrs. Andrew Edge will be Junior Units chairman.

Also attending the men's sessions were: Albert DeLuca, Sidney Lane, Thomas Hughes, Eugene Winter, and Frank Ryndak from the local Post, as well as several others from Ulster County Posts and Auxiliaries.

Doing the Right Thing

By Elizabeth L. Post

Dear Mrs. Post: I'm bringing a guest to a relative's wedding soon and I thought twenty-five dollars cash would be a nice wedding present. I know the wedding will be costing the couple roughly ten dollars per person, and now I'm beginning to think twenty-five dollars isn't much of a present. Figuring ten dollars per person, we would only be giving five dollars as the wedding present.

Could you send me your comments on whether this is the way the amount should be figured?

Lila

Dear Lila: Wedding gifts of cash are NOT intended to repay the cost of the wedding! The "cost per head" has NOTHING to do with the amount of your gift. The money you give is intended for the bride's and groom's use in setting up their home or for their savings, etc. The amount depends entirely on what you can afford, and your closeness to the bride and groom. Twenty-five dollars is a very generous amount for a gift from you and your friend, unless you sincerely want to give more. But base your decision on how you feel about the bride—not on what the wedding costs her family.

Dear Mrs. Post:

Some friends and I have been having a discussion, and we hope you can clear the air.

I was always under the impression that baby showers were in bad taste for second or third (or more) children—especially if the mother was honored at a shower for her first baby.

We'll be waiting for your response.

Mrs. B. J.

Dear Mrs.: When a family has moved to a different area, new friends often want to give a shower for a mother expecting a second child. Since it would be a different group of women from those who gave gifts to the first child, that is perfectly acceptable. After all, baby clothes do wear out and a mother can always use some new items for a second child. But if the mother is still surrounded by the same people, it would certainly be an imposition to go on obligating them to give gifts for each succeeding child.

"So You're Planning to Give a Shower!" This booklet tells you everything you need to know for a bridal shower, a welcome party for a new neighbor, the local minister or anyone else. To get a copy, send thirty-five cents in coins to cover booklet and mailing expenses, to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of this newspaper.

Linda Lou Buddle Weds Kirby Taylor

The marriage of Miss Linda Lou Buddle, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Donald T. Buddle of 195 Tremper Avenue, Kingston, and Kirby C. Taylor of Peru, New York, took place on Saturday, June 17, at The First Presbyterian Church of Kingston. The bride's father officiated at the marriage service.

Traditional wedding selections, including a classical repertoire, were played by Miss Edna Merrihew, church organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her paternal grandfather, Thomas Buddle of Throop, Pa. She was attended by her sisters, Miss Patrice Buddle, R.N., of Albany and Miss Barbara Buddle of Kingston. Thomas Ruckel of Yonkers, served as best man.

A reception was held at Ramsey Hall of the church, followed by a family-gathering at the home of her parents. Guests attended from Throop and Clarks Summit, Pa.; Peru, Plattsburgh, Saranac, Yonkers, Smyrna, Brockport, and Kingston and New Milford, Conn.

The bride is a senior-student at the State University of New York at Fredonia, and a part-time secretary in its Mathematics Department. She will graduate in May, 1973 with a degree in Music Education. The past three seasons she has been employed during college recesses in the Food Service Department of Kingston Hospital.

Her husband attended State University of New York at Fredonia and is manager of The Country Fair retail market at Brocton.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Taylor are graduates of Peru Central School, Peru, N. Y., class of 1969. They are residing at 159 Central Avenue in Fredonia.

WELCOME WAGON CLUB elected a slate of officers to serve the organization during 1972-73. Participating in installations ceremonies were (L-R) Mrs. James Thompson, president; Mrs. Tom Nau, first vice president; Mrs. Gerald E. Beinhower, second vice president; Mrs. Fred H. Gessner, secretary; and Mrs. Paul Witonsky, treasurer. (Freeman photo by Haines)

Can Man in Jail Trust 'Lady of the Evening?'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I am writing to you from the State Penitentiary in Huntsville, Tex., where I have been locked up for two years. I have three more years to serve and here is my problem:

Three months before I got locked up and sent here I met a very lovely young lady. She is 27 and I am 29. She works in the daytime and goes to school three nights a week. She is a "lady of the evening" but that doesn't interfere with her love for me. She writes to me faithfully and says she loves me and will wait for me. She is loyal and true, Miss Abby, and I think about her all the time.

Should I put all my faith and trust in this woman? I believe I really love her. I need your advice and opinion. VERY TRULY YOURS, "278946"

(Not my real number) DEAR "TWO": If she has stuck by you, writes faithfully and promises to wait for you, I'd say your faith in her is well justified. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: I read with interest the letter signed "Troubled Daughter" in which two brothers refused to share with three sisters the responsibility of caring for their elderly mother.

Did you know that in the State of California only sons are responsible (money-wise) for an aged parent who is on welfare, unless the daughter works or has an outside income, regardless of how large her husband's income is?

My husband (an only son) pays over $100 a month to the California Public Welfare office while his three married sisters pay nothing, as they are not employed outside the home.

Dear Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

Our attorney advised us that it is unconstitutional to discriminate against the sexes, but Kings County Department of Public Welfare threatened to take us to court if we don't reimburse them $109 a month.

UNLUCKY TO BE LIVING IN CALIF.

DEAR UNLUCKY: Your letter (accompanied by valid documentation) was a surprise to me. Does anyone out there have an ace to beat that King?

DEAR ABBY: A wife signed "Old Fashioned" wrote to say that she didn't share her husband's yen for X rated movies. If you read between the lines you could see a middle-aged male with a sagging libido. What he needs is a wife who can kindle a few sparks, lose some of her inhibitions and be a little less old fashioned.

Let's face it, that husband is hoping that if he exposes his wife to a few explicit scenes in the biological realm it will give her an inspiration. It's amazing how dense some women can be when it comes to something as basic as satisfying a man. Prostitutes will tell you that most of their customers are married men. And do you know why? Because that sweet little lady at home knows how to dish out the steak and potatoes, but she's too nice to dish out eroticism in the boudoir.

NORTH CAROLINA

DEAR NORTH: Before blaming the inhibited woman for batting zero in the boudoir, consider this: Psychiatrists tell us that a surprising number of men can perform anywhere except at home because of their inhibitions. Every decent woman is "mother," so they find their pleasure where "mother" isn't.

DEAR ABBY: This is for "YOUR HUSBAND'S MISTRESS," who ends up with, "what good is the status of being a legal wife when all your friends know that your husband is in love with another woman?"

I would like to know since when is love equated with sexual satisfaction? If that man really loved you, he'd have married you first and had his sex later.

Wake up, Sister. You're being used!

Thanks for letting me get this off my chest, Abby.

Kiner Finds the Flaw . . .

Fregosi Gets the Message

By UPI

Ralph Kiner, a slugging star for the Pittsburgh Pirates during the 1940's and 1950's, showed his old team Tuesday that he still has a keen eye for batting technique.

Kiner, currently a broadcaster for the New York Mets, noticed a flaw in Jim Fregosi's stance at the plate the other night and informed the Mets' third baseman about it prior to Tuesday's game with the Pirates.

Fregosi then went into the clubhouse to see some movies of himself in action and realized that Kiner was right. He went out and corrected his stance at the plate and delivered a two-run single and a three-run homer to spark the Mets to a 7-4 victory over the Pirates.

The triumph moved the Mets to within one game of the Pirates in the National League East.

In other NL games, Cincinnati maintained its half-game lead in the West Division with a 5-4 victory over Los Angeles, Houston blanked San Diego, 6-0, San Francisco edged Atlanta, 3-2, Montreal lost to St. Louis 4-3, then won 11-3 and Chicago beat Philadelphia, 6-3, then lost 7-4.

Detroit downed New York, 5-2, Milwaukee beat Baltimore, 6-4, Boston topped Cleveland, 8-2, California defeated Minnesota, 3-1, Oakland walloped Texas, 9-3, and Kansas City edged Chicago, 6-4, in American League action.

Fregosi, who has been in a terrible slump the last month, singled home two runs in the first inning and drilled a three-run homer in the seventh to snap a 4-4 tie. Both of his hits, Fregosi noted, came off outside pitches, the kind that had been giving him much trouble in past weeks.

"If I hadn't straightened myself out, I probably wouldn't have hit either of those pitches," said Fregosi. "(Bob) Miller has been throwing fastballs at me for five years, and getting me out. It was kind of nice to finally hit one out on him."

Danny Frisella shared the spotlight with Fregosi by turning in three innings of one-hit relief to notch his third victory. Richie Hebner and Al Oliver homered for the Pirates.

Cincinnati took advantage of five errors by the Dodger infield to record its 25th road victory in 34 games. Errors by third baseman Steve Garvey and shortstop Bill Russell helped the Reds score three unearned runs in the sixth inning and an error by first baseman Wes Parker—his first in 88 games—enabled the Reds to score two other runs in the second.

Dave Roberts tossed a six-hitter and the Astros supported him with 15 hits as Houston stayed within a half-game of Cincinnati. Bob Watson paced the Astros' attack with a triple and a pair of singles.

Bobby Bonds snapped a 6-for-18 slump with a leadoff homer in the 10th inning to give the Giants their fourth straight victory. Chris Speier also homered for the Giants.

Lou Brock's bases-loaded single in the 11th inning gave St. Louis a victory in the first game with Montreal, but the Expos came back to take the nightcap as Mike Torrez notched his ninth victory. Bob Bailey's three-run homer in the third was the decisive blow for Montreal in the nightcap.

Ferguson Jenkins gained his ninth win for the Cubs in their opening game triumph while Mike Ryan drove in four runs with a homer, double and single in the nightcap to pace the Phillies' victory.

TRAFFIC JAM — Traffic was heavy in the outfield Tuesday as Dave Cash of the Pirates lofted a high pop fly into shallow left center. Bud Harrelson of the Mets, sitting on the turf (UL), reaches for the ball as second baseman Ted Martinez converges on him. Martinez and Harrelson (bottom) collide as centerfielder Willie Mays runs into picture. Harrelson, on his knees (UR), holds up ball to show he caught it as Mays raises his fist in appreciation. The catch retired the side and the Mets went on to win, 7-4. (UPI)

Tigers Operate On Blasingame

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Tiger pitcher Mickey Lolich was to undergo minor surgery today.

Tuesday night his teammates presented him with his 12th victory by performing major surgery on New York Yankee pitcher Wade Blasingame.

Detroit hitters, Rip Van Winkle at the plate most of the season, awoke in the first inning and carved three consecutive home runs out of Blasingame's arm to highlight a 13-hit attack.

The operation, before a gallery of 29,447 at Tiger Stadium, took two hours and 22 minutes. It was a 5-2 success for Detroit and thrust the Tigers two full games ahead of second place Baltimore in the American League East. The Orioles lost 6-4 to Milwaukee.

It was ex-Houston Astro Blasingame's starting debut as a Yankee, quite a contrast to Bill Slayback's major league debut for Detroit the night before in which he pitched a no-hitter for seven innings of a 4-3 triumph over New York.

Blasingame walked the first man he faced, Tony Taylor.

—Then .233 hitter Aurelio Rodriguez smashed a homer into the lower deck in left field.

—Then .246 hitter Al Kaline drilled one near the same spot.

—Then Yankee Manager Ralph Houk walked out to talk to his pitcher.

—Then .241 hitter Willie Horton blasted a homer off the upper deck facing in left.

—Then Houk took Blasingame, 0-1, off the operating table and sent him into the recovery room.

Fifth Time

It was the fifth time in Tiger history the team has clouted three straight homers, the last being in April of last year against Boston.

Reliever Fred Beene was greeted by Bill Freehan's single, the first of four in a row for the Tiger catcher. Rodriguez finished 3-for-5, Horton 2-for-2, and Mickey Stanley 2-for-3 in the bat revival.

It was the biggest outpouring of Detroit hits in a long time.

"I know this," offered Manager Billy Martin, "they haven't swung the bat like this in a long time."

Lolich, 12-5, pitched with just two days rest. He is now tied with Cleveland's Gaylord Perry for most victories and complete games in the AL (12). He leads in strikeouts with 117, notching nine Tuesday.

He was scheduled to undergo surgery today for hemorrhoids, but Martin said he would be ready to pitch again Saturday.

Detroit plays two games in Boston starting tonight, with Joe Coleman, 9-5, scheduled to go against Sonny Siebert, 7-4, of the Red Sox. New York, tied with Boston for fourth, hosts the Orioles in the first of two.

The Yankees poked 10 hits, including a solo homer by Bobby Murcer in the eighth. The other run scored in the seventh on a wild pitch after Celerino Sanchez doubled and took third on a single by Torres. Murcer and Torres were both 3-for-4.

Detroit mounted five threats after the opening inning, but the only other run came in the fourth on a double by Mickey Stanley. Ed Brinkman's ground out and a sacrifice fly by Taylor.

Something New

In 31 years of professional baseball, Bill Rigney has seen plenty. But the manager of the Minnesota Twins is always ready for something new.

"When you think you've seen it all," sighed Rigney Tuesday night, "something like this happens."

"This" was a triple play pulled off by the California Angels that rescued Nolan Ryan from his toughest moment and helped the fireballing right-hander whip the Twins 3-1.

"This" wasn't your run of the mill ordinary triple play.

"This" was a triple play manufactured by Steve Braun and Harmon Killebrew on the basepaths. And what made this triple play so tough was that Killebrew was on third base and Braun on second, eliminating any force play putouts.

Killebrew Singles

Killebrew had opened the Twins' fourth with a single and moved to third on Braun's double. Next, Jim Nettles flied to Jim Spencer in left. One out.

Killebrew, not the fastest runner in the American League, faked a start from third and Braun apparently thought he was running and also started to go.

Third baseman Ken McMullen cut off Spencer's throw and relayed to second baseman Sandy Alomar who tagged the trapped Braun. Two out.

Next Alomar threw to shortstop Leo Cardenas, covering third, and Cardenas tagged Killebrew who was, for some unexplained reason, standing a few feet off the base. Three out.

Elsewhere in the American League Tuesday night, Milwaukee dropped Baltimore 6-4, Oakland ripped Texas 9-3, Boston took Cleveland 8-2 and Kansas City defeated Boston 6-4.

Spencer, normally a first baseman, was playing only his third game in the outfield but picked up an assist on the triple play—something most outfielders never manage in an entire career.

Johnny Briggs slugged a three-run homer to tie the game in the sixth inning and then singled home Milwaukee's tie-breaking run in the eighth as the Brewers trimmed Baltimore for the second straight night.

George Scott launched the Brewers' winning rally with a double and then Briggs singled up the middle, snapping a 21-inning shutout string for reliever Roric Harrison, 0-1.

The Aftermath...A Foster - Ali Showdown?

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Light heavyweight champion Bob Foster may have punched himself into a match with Muhammad Ali, it appeared today as the aftermath of their twin victories over the Quarry brothers of California.

Ali got a $500,000 guarantee. Jerry Quarry took down $200,000. Foster got $80,000 and young Mike $40,000.

Foster would like some of that big heavyweight money. He ran his career record to 48-5 with 41 knockouts. His five losses include a second round kayo in 1970 by heavyweight champion Joe Frazier, who also holds a 15-round decision over Ali.

"I'd like to try again as a heavyweight and I'd like to fight Muhammad Ali," said Foster. "I'm a better fighter now than when Frazier beat me. Ali is not the kind of guy who pressures you the way Frazier does and I know he can't punch any harder than I can."

Ali said he was glad referee Mike Kaplan called a TKO on Jerry Quarry at 19 seconds of the seventh. "I didn't want to kill him," he said. "I thought he would be much tougher. I'm ready for Joe Frazier right now. I'm ready for everybody. I'm the champion of the world. I wouldn't mind fighting Foster. I think it would be a good fight for Las Vegas. I could fight him in about two months."

Ali is scheduled to box Alvin "Blue" Lewis in Dublin, Ireland, July 12 to build up his bankroll.

Jerry Quarry was not badly marked by the taping job Ali did with his snapping left jab on the Californian's rugged features.

"He's a helluva fighter," said the weary Jerry. "He hit me when he wanted to. I didn't fight the fight I planned. My brother's loss left me down. I couldn't defend myself. I hurt him in the sixth but I couldn't get off most of the time."

Judges Art Lurie and Ralph Mosa called the second round even, scoring the fight 30-25 for six rounds. Judge Bill Kipp scored it 30-24 for Ali.

The same three judges had Foster ahead for three rounds. Kipp had 15-12, the same as Mosa. Lurie gave the third round to Mike Quarry, scoring it 14-13 for Foster under Nevada's five-point must system.

Mike Quarry, weighing in at the light heavyweight limit of 175, said he heard the bell ending the fourth round and let his guard down. That's when Foster caught him with the devastating left hook to the jaw.

Mike went down flat on his back and his chest heaved as referee Harry Krause counted him out. Krause said he started the count at the bell with Mike already flat on his back.

Foster said this was the same type punch with which he knocked out Dick Tiger to win the title in 1968. This was his 10th successful title defense.

The gross gate at the Convention Center was $349,800 with paid attendance 6,549.

The program was telecast on closed circuit to more than 160 outlets in the United States and Canada and that's where the promoters had to find their profit. Figures were not available Tuesday night.

Foster, wise at 33, fought his own fight, spearing the 5-foot-11 Mike with his sharp left jab and hooking repeatedly. Foster, a string bean at 6-foot-3 1/2, fought flat-footed, trudging onward and patiently stalking his young opponent whose face was reddened and puffed but not cut.

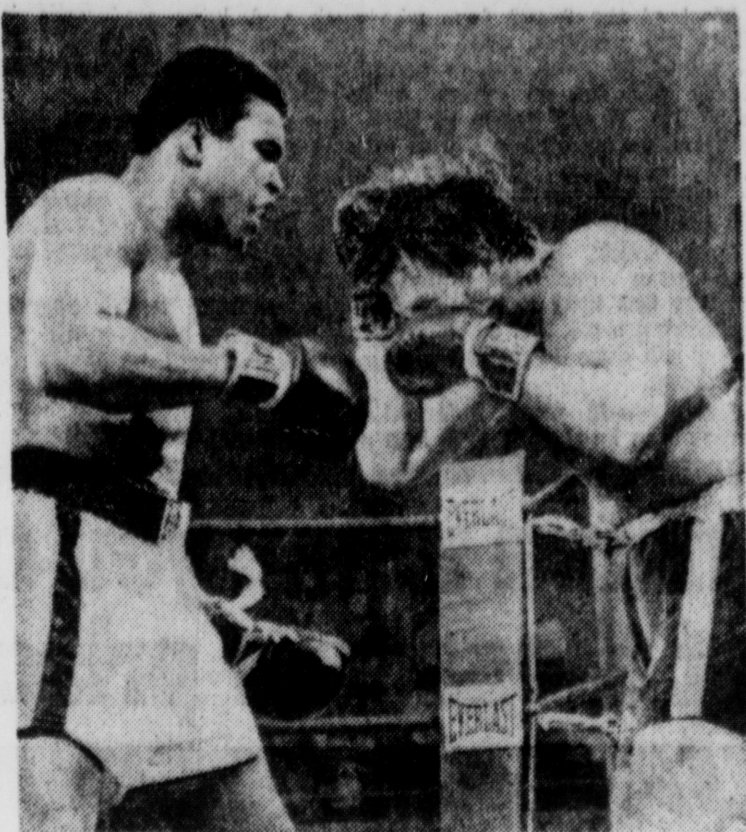

Jerry Quarry, at the sound of the first round bell, lunged at Ali and lifted him bodily on his shoulders in Quarry's own corner. After that awkward beginning, Ali settled down to his dancing routine backing away and flipping his left in Jerry's face. Ali danced with his hands at his sides for a few seconds, then lunged at Quarry who appeared disgusted and befuddled with the tactics.

The story was much the same through the second and third round but in the fourth Ali changed his tactics and began moving forward instead of backwards. He would snap four or five lefts into Quarry's face, then back away, then move in again to punish him more with the flicking left.

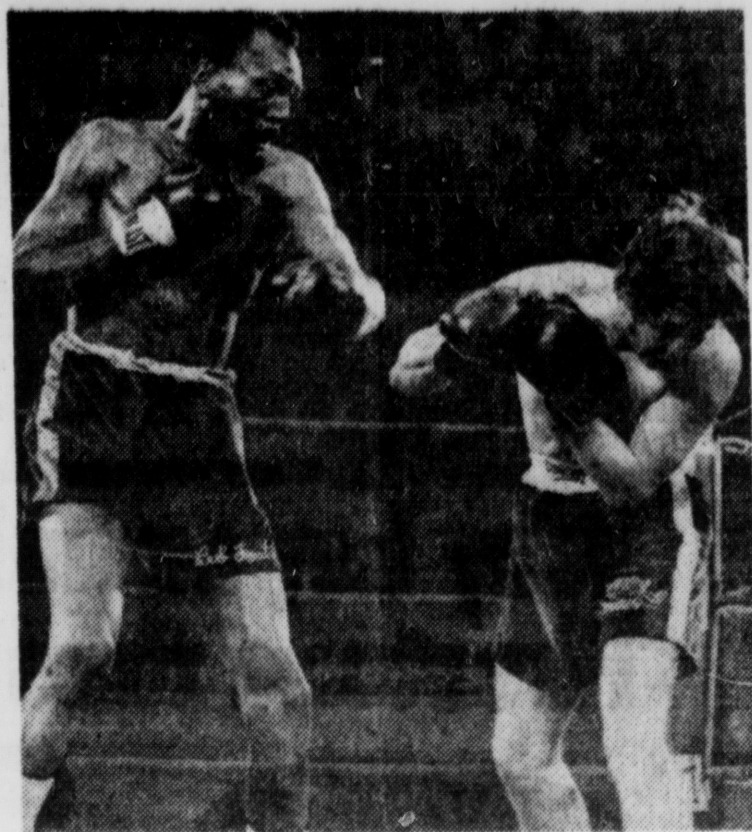

Quarry held his hands out trying vainly to block the tactics of Ali who looked in splendid shape at 216 1/2 pounds. Quarry came in at 198 and looked neither strong nor fast.

In the sixth, Quarry did not land one solid blow. In the seventh Ali opened with a hard left to Quarry's face, then motioned the referee to take a look at him. Referee Mike Kaplan did and declared the TKO.

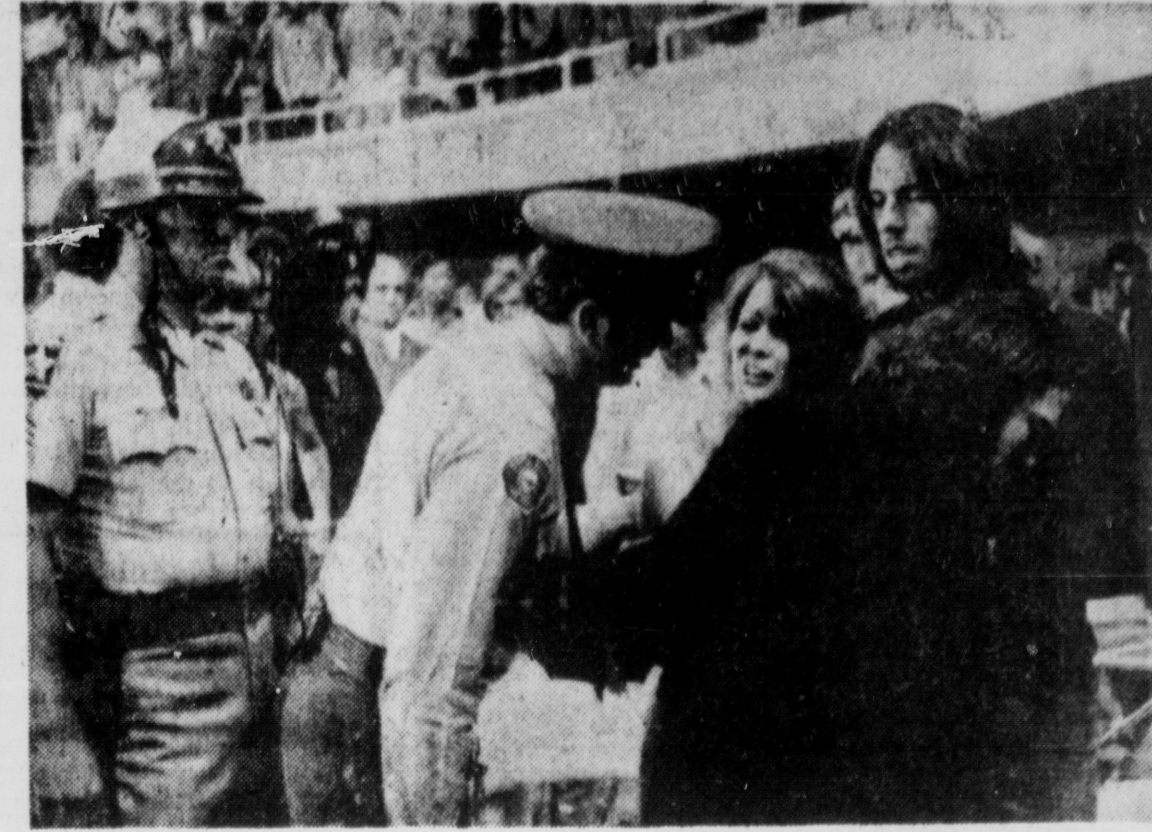

Jerry's record is now 39-6-4 while brother Mike is 36-1. Ali ran his record to 37-1 with 28 knockouts.

Hull's Contract: 'Largest in Pro Sports'

WINNIPEG, Manitoba (UPI) — Superstar Bobby Hull was a member of the Winnipeg Jets and the World Hockey Association today, a move which conceivably made him the highest paid professional athlete in North America.

Hull, 33, made the jump from the National Hockey League with the Jets in the center of Tuesday when he inked a reported $2.75 million contract with the Jets and the WHA. Hull was given an ovation by several thousand wildly cheering hockey fans when he signed accepted a $1 million check from WHA president Gary Davidson.

Each of the 11 other clubs in the WHA contributed to lure Hull to the league. Hull's signing was likely to trigger a bidding war between the NHL and the WHA, which makes its debut this season.

Hull's business agent, Harry Weinberg claimed the agreement was "the largest in the history of professional sport" and makes Hull the highest paid professional athlete in North America.

Hull's signing was attended by his wife, Joanne, and three of his five children, Bobby Jr., Brett and Blake, as well as officials of the WHA and member clubs and both Winnipeg and Manitoba government representatives.

"It's a terrific contract," said a smiling Hull, a 15-year veteran with the NHL Black Hawks and second only to Gordie Howe on the NHL leading scorers list with 604 career goals. Howe scored 786 goals with the Detroit Red Wings.

The signing ended over six months of negotiations with the WHA and the Jets, but Hull said the record salary was not a major factor in his decision to join Winnipeg.

Hull said it was important to him to have his children grow up in "a rural atmosphere where we can have 1,000 acres between us and our neighbors. It's a good life and I want it for my children."

Asked when he made up his mind to jump, Hull said "I've really been talking about it and considering it for some time."

The contract provides for

Hull to become a player-coach for the first five years and then move into an executive capacity for another five years.

"There will be another coach, I'm sure, but if I can help him in any way, I will," Hull said.

He said he has no regrets about leaving the NHL and said he did not think the Hawks would take legal action to try to keep him out a year. Under present NHL rules, a player jumping to another team must sit out a full season.

"I'm sure the Black Hawk owners are businessmen and I hope they realize this is business," he said.

"I think they'll be barking up the wrong tree if they tried to bring legal action against us. I hope they won't and I don't really think they will."

Hull is the 95th player to sign with WHA clubs and the 34th with NHL experience. He was the eighth player to sign with the Winnipeg club.

Up until the Hull signing, the most notable players to switch leagues were Johnny MacKenzie of the Boston Bruins and Toronto Maple Leafs' Bernie Parent. Both have signed with the Philadelphia Blazers.

Bob Finch Hurls Slow Pitch Shutout

KINGSTON, Ont. (UPI) — The pitchers dominated City shutout and two one-run contests in the Slow Pitch League B Division tests.

O'Brien Setting Fast Pace In Grand Circuit Racing

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) — If the first night of Grand Circuit racing was any guide, Joe O'Brien, who drives harness horses with the enthusiasm and agility of teamsters half his age may wind up showing them all how it's done.

At the rate he's going, O'Brien, in his early 60s, could just make a circus out of Grand Circuit week at Saratoga Harness, the fastest half-mile harness track on the North American continent.

The "Roarin' Grand," a multi-million dollar showcase for the best young trotters and pacers in the world, is staging its annual week-long stand at Saratoga Harness.

Opening night, Monday, O'Brien guided the two-year-old trotting filly "Ann" to a 2:13 triumph in the $15,900 Saratoga Springs Division of the Battle of Saratoga.

In the second division of the Battle of Saratoga's Schuyler-ville Division, O'Brien was up behind Steady Airliner, a two-year-old pacer, who won in 2:02.4. The win was the fifth in as many career starts for Steady Airliner.

So whatever the weather, the atmosphere may be a bit icy during the four rounds, to be played by 150 leading pros and amateurs through Sunday.

Wimbledon Crowds Big Without Pros

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI)—When the touring professionals were banned from this year's Wimbledon lawn tennis championships the whisper went out the tournament would lose money.

The 86th championships enter their third day today and thus far the forecasts of gloom have been wrong. Attendances already are running ahead of 1971 when over 300,000 fans attended the 12 days of play.

Club Secretary Major David Mills said: "I think we'll have a good year. We have more applications than we have tickets, which is normal for us, so the signs are the public is still supporting us."

Wimbledon's 15,000 Center Court is always over-subscribed and the additional revenue comes from the fans who throng the alleyways leading to the 12 outside courts during the first week.

The girls also draw big in England and this year Wimbledon has a new star in Chris Evert, the 17-year-old sensation from Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., who is unbeaten since her arrival in England just over two weeks ago.

She has been forgiven for winning her two singles matches in the Wightman Cup and is now the No. 1 attraction at the club in suburban Southwest London.

Miss Evert had to cool her heels Tuesday because of a prolonged second round match between fourth seeded Andre Gimeno and New Zealand's Onny Parun which was called at 3-3 in the fifth because of rain.

Most of the 25,903 fans who filled the grounds went home disappointed. Even though Miss Evert was due to appear on court No. 1, the scene of her Wightman Cup victories with a 9,000 capacity, the crowd expected to follow her progress via the electric scoreboard.

Stan Smith, beaten finalist last year and the men's favorite this time, was edgy in registering a 6-4, 9-8, 6-3 second round win over David Irvine of Rhodesia.

Smith made more unforced errors than he usually does in a week and later confessed: "I was just plain sloppy." He admitted overconfidence caused his problems.

But Smith, the reigning U.S. Open title holder, is not worried about his form. "Some good practise and in a couple of days, when I go on court again, I'll have got the bugs out of my game", he said.

The warning to the players that bad court behavior will not be tolerated will be tested to the full today when Ilie Nastase of Romania, the second seed, and unseeded Clark Graebner of New York City clash in the second round.

Last time they met, during the Embassy Indoor at Wimbledon last January, Nastase quit his semifinal with Graebner saying: "I fear for my life." The giant American jumped the net, caught him by the scruff of the shirt and threatened Nastase with physical violence because he did not like his gamesmanship.

The program calls for completion of most of the men's second round and the ladies first round.

Moschowsky, Gropouso Pace Bubbling Golf

KINGSTON

Basil Moschowsky and Mike Gropouso teamed for a first place in the annual Champagne Breakfast Tournament at The Twaalfskill Club. Eighty per cent handicap was used.

Dr. William Pugliese and Charles Higgins posted 66 to tie with Art Larsen and George Hughes and the tandem of Charles Gaffney and Red Timmons.

Sharing a four-way deadlock at best ball 67 were the teams of Dr. C. J. Goffredi-Dr. Vicevich; Leon Miller-Paul Coon; William Merrill-John McGarry; and Eugene Berardi-Nicholas Morris.

Leo Yonetti and Dr. Douw Meyers shared a tie at 68 with Dr. Herbert Derman and Robert Bechtold. Dr. Francis Lo Galbo and Thomas Saccoman carded 69 to tie with Gus Brinnier and Fern Coughlin.

William Livingston and Jake Berinato and James Gilpatrick and Harry Kaprelian were tied at 70. Dave Hoffman-Dennis Pitcock and Martin Haggerty-Jake Welsh tied at 72.

Smith, Grelak Share Third

KINGSTON

Stew Smith of Sawyerkill Country Club and Alex Grelak of Twaalfskill combined for a best ball 34-37-71 to share a third place tie in the Northeastern New York PGA's Pro-Tournament at Schenectady Municipal course.

John Maurycy and his assistant, Rick Walcott of Wallhalla, won the event with a four-under-par best ball 33-35-68.

Lou Markle of Canajoharie and Tom Cummings of Glens Falls were runnersup with 33-36-69 and the McGregor Links tandem of Skip Lawlor and George Wree third at 33-37-70.

Ralph Montoya, the colorful Normanside pro and Jim Cornelius of Tall Timber tied Smith and Grelak with 36-35-71. Jim Hutchins of Woodstock and Dan Powell of Catskill posted 36-37-73 to tie with Bill Gressick, Pleasant View and Pat Palmieri, Pittsfield GEAA, 35-38.

Vic Piazza of Sharon Springs and Dave Kerr of Colonie were alone at 36-38-74. Bob Haggerty Jr., the host pro and Paul Gardner of Pine Haven carded 37-38-75.

Bill Reilly of Wiltwyck and Joe Kendall of Ontario put together 38-39-77.

LADY UMP — Miss Nancy Miller, the woman umpire, who accompanies the Indianapolis Clowns to Dietz Stadium tonight for their game with the Kingston Braves. The famed road team has other stellar attractions. Game time is 8:30 p. m.

Hospital Emergency Rooms Doing More

KINGSTON

They're doing more in hospital emergency rooms than they used to. In fact, the emergency room is no longer just a space set aside for applying advanced first aid to accident victims — it's a full-fledged department and its place in the total hospital picture is growing every day.

At the Kingston Hospital, for instance, emergency room visits increased 51 per cent in five years, totaling 16,702 last year. Officials think this figure might reach 20,000 this year.

Dr. Fred S. Carr explains why. "It is a recognized fact that in this as well as other communities, true emergency cases account for but a small percentage of total cases presenting themselves for diagnosis and treatment. What is happening, in other words, is that people are coming to the emergency room for things they used to go to their family doctor for. Many families today don't even have a family doctor."

As everyone knows, there is a shortage of physicians, especially general practitioners. The rapidly expanding body of knowledge in medicine has brought about increasing specialization in the medical profession. No one person could possibly know everything there is to know about health care and keep up with every new advance, and as more doctors enter the specialties there are fewer available for general practice.

In other cases a patient might contact his own doctor only to be advised to go to the emergency room. There's a good reason for this — taking full advantage of modern medical technology requires expensive and sophisticated equipment and the technicians to operate it, and these are only available at a hospital.

Many people fondly recall the day of the doctor making his rounds by horse and buggy, but few would seriously suggest a return to the day of the appendectomy or the tracheotomy performed on the kitchen table.

Americans are on the move today more than ever before, putting added demands on emergency rooms. Many who appear for treatment are visitors or travelers miles away from their own doctors and hospitals, which suggests that local residents on vacation, especially those with young children, should take a few minutes to learn the location of the hospital emergency room nearest where they are staying.

Recent New York State law, recognizing the changing role of the emergency room, requires fully licensed physicians to be on duty 24 hours a day, seven days a week. No longer may emergency rooms be staffed by interns or residents, except in large teaching institutions and medical centers.

The Kingston Hospital met this requirement by contracting with Dr. Carr to assume full responsibility for guaranteed coverage of the emergency room facility with qualified and well-trained medical personnel.

Dr. Carr has served on the attending surgical staff of the hospital for 38 years and has studied problems related to the emergency room facility. Other doctors work with him to provide the necessary full time coverage.

In addition to the doctors, there is at least one registered nurse on duty at all times, plus a complement of other personnel which may include, depending on the shift, licensed practical nurses, orthopedic orderlies, and a floor clerk.

The patient coming to the emergency room is asked whether he desires the services of his own physician, if available. If he does, contact is always attempted. In any event, there is always a fully licensed physician on duty to see the patient immediately and to administer first aid or take any measure necessary until the physician arrives.

The purpose of this, Dr. Carr said, is to make sure that each patient coming to the emergency room will be seen, evaluated, and treated by a competent physician, whether it is a true emergency or any condition that may be considered important enough not to wait evaluation at a later date.

PRESENT: HON. EDWARD S. CONWAY, JUDGE
STATE OF NEW YORK
SUPREME COURT
ULSTER COUNTY

JOSEPH P. SIPOS, Plaintiff
BERTHA SIPOS, Defendant

ORDER FOR SERVICE OF SUMMONS BY PUBLICATION
Upon reading and filing the Summons and Complaint in this action, the said Complaint showing the cause of action specified in Subdivision 1, of Section 314 of the Civil Practice Law and Rules, in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant, for an absolute divorce, and upon the affidavit of the plaintiff, sworn to on the 18th day of May, 1972, and the affirmation of Joseph P. SiPOS, Esq., attorney for the plaintiff, sworn to on the 18th day of May, 1972, and the Certificate of Charles E. Murray, the Sheriff of the County of Philadelphia, State of Pennsylvania, dated the 8th day of May, 1972, by which the plaintiff has made proof to my satisfaction that the said defendant cannot be served by another prescribed method of service, with due diligence, and mailing having been dispensed with.

NOW, on motion of Joseph P. SiPOS, Esq., attorney for the plaintiff, it is ORDERED, that the service of the Summons in the above-entitled action upon the said Bertha SiPOS, be made by publication thereof in accordance with Rule 316 of the Civil Practice Law and Rules in one newspaper in the English language, viz: The Daily Freeman, published in the City of Kingston, State of New York, hereby designated as being most likely to give notice to said defendant, once a week for three successive weeks, together with a notice to the defendant, and a brief statement of the object of the action, and it is further ORDERED, that the Summons, Complaint, Order and papers upon which this Order is granted be filed on or before the first day of publication, and that first publication be made within twenty (20) days after the date of this Order, and it is further ORDERED, that Subdivision B of Rule 316 of the Civil Practice Law and Rules be dispensed with since it has been shown to my satisfaction that the whereabouts of the defendant have not been ascertained by the plaintiff in spite of due diligence in that regard, so that the mailing of a copy of the Summons prior to the first day of publication would be fruitless, and of no force and effect.

Your Horoscope

Thursday, June 29

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A wonderful day for you to get in touch with good friends, whether they are conventional or unconventional, practical or visionary. Let them know you want to join forces with them in an activity that will bring mutual benefits. Be active.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Plan to meet with friends you like for whatever joint aims you may have, be it business or recreational. Make notes so you do not forget salient points. Take it easy tonight.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) A good day to contact influential persons and get their support for your ideas. Engage in civic work that pleases you and at which you are so adept. Show that you have poise.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Improve your home and business situations is possible now if you apply yourself. Look into a new activity that would be fine for you. Show that you are a broadminded person.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You can inaugurate a new system that can help you handle your responsibilities more efficiently. Come to a true understanding with mate. Show that you are truly devoted.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Cementing better relations with associates and showing you understand their viewpoints is wise. Situations arise through which you can benefit greatly. Be on the alert for them.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You are enthused about getting those duties behind you, which is fine, but use modern methods for best results. Fellow workers cooperate willingly now. Relax at home tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Forget unimportant work and go out to the amusements that give you relief from worry and perk up your spirit. You have a personal goal which you can attain with the help of mate.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Try to establish a more relaxed relationship at home now so that there will be more happiness there for all concerned. Do some entertaining in your home tonight. Be poised.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have good plans to discuss with associates, so do just that early in the day. Make, and keep the appointments that are necessary later in the day. Be wise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Show that you understand your monetary responsibilities and do whatever will insure security for you in the future. Follow the advice of a business expert.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Once you have handled business affairs, seek out those friends you like and enjoy recreation together. A new attitude could be very helpful now. Show that you have wisdom.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Use your intuition and know what you want to accomplish in the future. Take the right steps in such directions. You can have far greater rapport with mate in the days ahead.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those unusual young people who brings luck to self as well as to others. As parents you should encourage your charming progeny to have as many friends around as possible. Direct the education along lines that deal with government, the masses and philanthropic work. Give religious training early and success is assured.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

JESUS CHRIST: (Comment) A girl wrote to tell you the kinds at school gave her a hard time. I had the same trouble. I was teased to death. I got into arguments with the teachers. I was miserable.

Then I met the Lord. I took a good, hard look at myself and realized I had brought some of the teasing on myself. I asked God to help me so that school would quit bothering me. I don't mind going now.

I don't bother about what other people think of me. I don't have to apologize to them for living any more. I know that God loved me enough to send His Son to die for me.

I am involved with other Christians now and am having fun. (Yes, Christians have fun.)

No drugs, no booze, no sex. Something infinitely stronger—Jesus Christ. Jesus doesn't wear off as the day wears on. Drugs, sex and booze do!

If you think you can be happy without Him you're wrong. He offers happiness on earth and eternal happiness with Him in heaven after you die. He has this happiness and wants you to have it, and you can, just for the asking.

It's as simple as that. You can have your pass to heaven sealed in just 30 seconds. Just ask Him and he'll save you—on the spot.

Being saved is fun! Jesus loves you. Be happy. Ask Him today.

I'm not talking about religion. I'm talking about Jesus. I'm saved, happy and having fun.

He still lives! Do you?

Hate doesn't cut the mustard.

Smile. Jesus loves you—Saved in Alabama

(A.) Thank you for your testimony. I am happy that you are happy and I am glad to pass along your good news.

But maybe you had better take another good, hard look. Being a Christian is not simple. It isn't just slogans.

Read the four gospels, all of them. They are not long, but they are not simple, not just slogans. Have I read them? Yes, again and again. Every time I find some deep new truth in them.

PRISCILLA'S POP

Dick Kleiner Show Beat

Fourteen years ago, Jack H. Harris produced a picture called "The Blob." That became famous for two reasons—it was Steve McQueen's first film and it was a huge success for a relatively low-budget film.

"The Blob" kept making money. Harris says that it played more than 26,000 theatrical dates and is in the top 10 on the all-time list of most-played films. It made somewhere between $12 and $14 million in theaters and has been on TV screens more often than Perry Mason reruns.

Harris wrote a sequel in 1965 but never made it. There was no reason to—the original was still cleaning up. But now, finally, that sequel is out and it's called "Beware! The Blob." His reasoning for putting the new one out now is interesting.

"Planet Of The Apes" changed my thinking," he says. "That picture has changed the entire structure of exhibiting science-fiction films.

"Universal Studios, when they were doing Frankenstein and the Wolf Man and Dracula pictures, used to put out a new one in each series every seven years. They knew that was all the public could take. But 'Apes' pictures come out almost every year and they each do well."

Harris says the "Apes" series also have given science-fiction films a good name—together with such big ones as "2001: A Space Odyssey." He says the entire field, which used to be looked on as cheap, is now very respectable.

So the new "Blob" film is available for your screams. And watch out—Harris is preparing another one called "Scarab," all about a seven-foot beetle.

Nixon on TV...Major Factor

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—In this election year, President Nixon's potent use of television is a major political factor.

Some may argue that, even aside from the prestige of his office, he is the man to beat when it comes to advantageous employment of the home medium.

Yet little more than a decade ago, it might have required a crystal ball to believe that television would someday be an important ally to Richard M. Nixon.

He had been defeated in the 1960 presidential election by John F. Kennedy, and many still believe their video debates helped beat him.

On debating points alone, Nixon fared well. But his television command and appearance were not what they are today, and against a glamorous figure like Kennedy these drawbacks may well have hurt.

Nixon's political comeback showed televisioners two things about him, among others: His stick-to-itiveness and his new grasp of video.

These two assets were to become the cornerstones of the low-keyed but effective television offense developed by Nixon with the shrewd guidance of his media advisors.

Much has been written, some favorable and some not, about Nixon's video campaigning in 1968, when he was elected President. Interestingly, though, most of his political foes did not persist in criticism of his television devices.

That was four years ago, and since then the President has continued to hone his video technique into a sharper working tool as well as a political and psychological weapon.

Curiously, Vice President Agnew is probably more of a television natural than Nixon. On programs like David Frost's, Agnew revealed the kind of comfort before the cameras that evaded Nixon for years.

Nixon, by contrast, registers on screen as the persevering plugger, the man who took years but finally learned all the ropes. And to his admirers, the plugger image may well seem part of the old-fashioned American way.

In any event, in their separate approaches and impact, Nixon and Agnew have probably used television more provocatively as a team than any other President-Vice President combination.

The Nixon family, meanwhile, has carried off television broadcasts designed to have a positive effect on viewers. The President's wife Pat, for example, was the subject of an hour network documentary. His daughter Tricia was hostess of a charming White House tour for video.

And the President himself was the focus of an hour documentary that showed him going through the activities of a supposedly typical working day and depicted him flatteringly as an administrator and family man.

Nixon, of course, reached television peak with his trip this year to China and Russia, both events getting heavy network exposure.

In an election year, televisioners saw him in these major diplomatic confrontations with his political foes back home fought for nominations.

In May, for instance, on the same day as video's first called "debate" between Sen. George S. McGovern and Hubert H. Humphrey, vying for the Democratic presidential nomination, Nixon was seen as a satellite from Moscow as he addressed the Russian people on television.

Unlimited Powers for Thieu

SAIGON (UPI)—A bare quorum of pro-government senators, in a semi-secret meeting after the 10 p.m. curfew Tuesday night, voted unanimously to give President Nguyen Van Thieu nearly unlimited powers for the next six months.

Opposition senators—a majority of the 60-member upper house—had protested the meeting. The pro-Thieu senators voted unanimously to extend the powers of the president and there appeared to be little that the opposition could do about the vote.

Other senators said the pro-Thieu faction took advantage of a loophole in the parliamentary procedure rules of the senate to hold the extraordinary meeting. Huyen, an independent who has supported Thieu on issues in the past, categorized the move as "an usurpation of power and a hidden action. None of these senators deserve to be called senator."

"I am sad for the nation that such a thing took place," Huyen told a news conference. "I officially declare that the meeting last night of a group of senators . . . is totally illegal and valueless."

Senators interviewed today said the pro-Thieu faction was able to act on the bill because Huyen did not formally adjourn the stormy senate session Tuesday, but merely "postponed" it.

Huyen said South Vietnamese law permits a vice speaker to preside over a senate session only if the speaker cannot be present.

"Last night I was available for such a meeting," said Huyen. He accused the pro-Thieu faction of waiting until he had gone home to convene the senate session. A quick vote with little debate passed the bill 26-0. A full senate session likely would have defeated the bill, although the vote would have been close.

Thieu's bill, already turned down in one vote by the senate but ordered revived by the president in a slightly altered form, earlier had passed the lower house of congress and now awaits only the signature of Thieu to become law. Huyen had called off debate on the bill Tuesday after a stormy session because two senators were missing, and some opposition members charged they had received threats for their safety.

Israel's Position Explained by Dayan

TEL AVIV (UPI)—Israel will attack Arab guerrillas before they attack Israel, the U.N. Security Council resolution notwithstanding, military sources said today.

The council by a vote of 13-0 Monday night condemned Israel for its strikes into Lebanon. Foreign Minister Abba Eban said Tuesday the resolution was "inequitable and discriminatory" because it ignored Israeli deaths and injuries caused by Arab guerrilla attacks from Lebanese territory.

Defense Minister Moshe Dayan said it was necessary for Israel to emphasize a "deterrent policy" on the northern border with Lebanon.

"In the near future, emphasis must be put on a deterrent policy in the north in order to prevent terrorist activity inside Lebanese territory rather than on defensive measures such as the construction of security rooms and shelters," Dayan told representatives of northern settlements while on a tour of the border area Tuesday.

Commenting on Dayan's remarks Defense Ministry sources said Israel will not wait for the guerrillas to strike Israeli territory but will attack them first.

"If Israel sees that there are guerrillas in Lebanese territory then it should attack first rather than wait to be attacked," the sources said. "We should prevent them from attacking us."

N. Ireland Peace Jeopardized

BELFAST (UPI) — Rock-throwing clashes between Protestants and Roman Catholics endangered Northern Ireland's fragile one-day-old peace. A British army spokesman warned against complacency and a police spokesman said "a spark could blow it all up."

Underlining the threats to the peace ushered in by the Irish Republican Army's (IRA) cease-fire, militant Protestants headed for a meeting with Britain's secretary of state for Northern Ireland to demand all-out military action against IRA strongholds.

British troops quickly broke up the rock-throwing clashes in Belfast Tuesday night but similar battles in Lurgan, 20 miles south of the capital, erupted sporadically into the early hours today.

The Lurgan fray began when Protestants marched past a Catholic area on their way home from a door-to-door campaign to collect money for community band uniforms, police said. Separated several times by troops rushed into the area, the rival crowds smashed and looted pubs and shops before finally scattering.

Reviewing the day's incidents, which included one killing, a shot fired at troops and two bomb explosions in cars, a British army spokesman pronounced the first day of the cease-fire "very satisfactory" compared with what we're used to.

A police spokesman was more cautious. "It's very, very tense," he said. "A spark could blow it all up."

The reason for the killing of Bernard Norney, a 38-year-old Catholic father of five, in Belfast's Ballymurphy district Tuesday remained a mystery. Norney, a truckdriver, was shot down as he drove home from taking his wife to work. The cease-fire was seven hours old.

Making good their declaration they would police Catholic areas of Belfast themselves, men of the IRA's Provisional wing guarded entrance streets to the Ballymurphy and Andersonstown districts during the night. UPI reporter Frank Johnston said. They wore military-style hooded parkas, berets and dark glasses or face masks. "No guns were in evidence but it was obvious they could get them quickly if they needed them," Johnston said.

Social Security Bill in Final Form

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite President Nixon's objections, Democrats are moving ahead with plans to tack a 20-per-cent Social Security increase onto a bill raising the national-debt ceiling.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said his amendment is in final form and ready to be offered when the debt measure comes before the Senate, probably Thursday.

The House passed the debt-limit bill 211 to 168 Tuesday. House Democratic leaders are arranging procedures to try to accept the Senate Social Security amendment when the legislation is returned to the House.

Unless the bill is signed into law by Friday midnight, the national-debt ceiling will drop back to $400 billion from the present temporary figure of $450 billion.

Since the debt now stands at about $427 billion, the government technically would be unable to meet its bills unless the higher ceiling is extended as the bill provides.

Nixon called in Republican members of the Senate Finance Committee Tuesday to protest the Democratic plan to attach the Social Security hike to the debt-ceiling bill.

After that meeting, White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler accused Church of playing politics. Ziegler said he thinks Church "wants to tie this thing up a little bit so he can create a little tension."

Church, in a Senate speech, replied that he simply is trying to help the elderly without waiting for the big Social Security welfare bill to clear the Finance Committee.

It was learned that Sen. Wallace F. Bennett of Utah, senior Republican on the Finance Committee, probably will offer a 10-per-cent Social Security hike as a substitute for the Church proposal. But it appears a number of Republicans will join most Democrats in voting for 20 per cent.

In voting Tuesday to raise the debt ceiling to $450 billion until Oct. 31, the House rejected attempts to attach tax-reform riders.

On a 207-180 vote, the House beat back a move by Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., to allow amendments aimed at plugging what he called tax-law loopholes favoring corporations and the wealthy. Reuss said closing those loopholes would yield the Treasury up to $6 billion.

Sen. Church said the financing provisions of his bill, to pay for the benefit increases, have been cleared with the Social Security Administration.

They would boost the wage base—the amount of annual earnings against which the payroll tax is levied—and the rate paid by the worker and employer.

These changes mean that the maximum tax for the worker and employer, $468 this year, would go up to $594 in 1973.
